Dear Readers...

Welcome to the April issue of your community magazine, it feels like Spring has finally Sprung as I write this - with heartwarming flowers adorning Ashley Down Green, Horfield Common and of course our glorious St Andrews Park; read news from all of these green spaces in the magazine.

Easter will be celebrated on Sunday 16 April; we are pleased to include details of seasonal church services on the community noticeboard. We hope the fabulous pictures from Year 2 classes at Ashley Down school will get you in the mood for a good egg hunt, starting at the Ardagh Bowling Club on Horfield Common on Saturday 8 April, 10-12.30, great family fun for all. As well as a fab, free bunny trail with the GRBID.

Local photography studio Zzzone are running an Easter Competition for little ones and there are many options for Easter gifts, thinking beyond chocolate, throughout the magazine - our local traders always appreciate our support.

Plans are well underway for another exciting Mayfest on Glos Rd Central, you can read all about this and news from the local traders.

Friend of St Andrews Park, Simon Davis, is fulfilling a challenge set by his 13-year-old daughter Tatiana to raise funds to buy Lego sets for children in hospital. Tatiana loves Lego and found this activity helped whilst she was in hospital receiving treatment - so please give generously.

As we enter another holiday filled with indulgence, perhaps we could all put a little something extra in our baskets to donate to the North Bristol Foodbank via one of the Gloucester Road collection points.

World Book Day is always a huge amount of fun and a great way to encourage young readers. I was invited to join in the day's activities with Brunel Field.

The school was celebrating 'Book Fest' with a whole week centred around the importance and delight of reading a book both at school and at home. I think you will agree on viewing these images, there was a great deal of enthusiasm at the school. I particularly liked the Roald Dahl characters - there were some fantastic BFG ears and the concoction for George's Marvellous Medicine looked like it could be the real thing! There was also some amazing dressing up by the teachers, the combined 101 Dalmatians and Mr and Mrs Twit were a triumph!

After school the children were invited back for bedtime stories in their PJs along with most welcome milk and biscuits. The older children had a great time sitting around a campfire outside sharing stories.

Whilst visiting the different classes I noticed some beautiful displays with the theme of the Ted Hughes poem 'The Stag'. Miss Logan told me what fantastic Art Days the school had enjoyed on this topic. Working with Travelling Light, the pupils had taken part in drama, music and dance, culminating in a wonderful performance. I hope you enjoy the photos below capturing the pupils' enchantment and engagement during the workshops.

Summer may seem a long way off yet but we're already busy planning our next social for June. This will be our second big gathering for children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND), their families and friends. For our first, in November last year, we wanted to provide a space for local kids with SEND to socialise in their own community, something which they don't often get the chance to do. For our next social in June we want to provide that social space again but also take another step towards our goal of making BS7 an inclusive

We're inviting people who run activities and groups in Bishopston to come along on 11 June and find out how they can be more accessible for children and teenagers with SEND. We're already partnering up with local providers, such as the Golden Hill Community Garden and King's Lawn Tennis Club, to work towards inclusive provision. The upcoming adventure days and monthly club at Golden Hill and the holiday sessions at King's Club are not designed to be exclusively for kids with SEND. Our aim is to make these activities inclusive for the whole family.

With this mind, we'd welcome any club or group running in BS7 to come and meet us and start thinking about how to achieve this aim together. At our last social, the amazing Adventure Team gave up their Sunday afternoon to entertain us. Amy from cookery workshop company Baby Bites helped us to decorate cakes. We'd love other local companies and groups to get involved and give taster sessions. And, most importantly, work out if they can find ways to make their activities - whether it's a French language group or a ballet school - available to every child in their community.

We hope that eventually local providers will use our logo to show that they are approachable, open and keen to be as inclusive as possible for those children with additional needs.

SENDaWelcome will be having a regular monthly meet-up at Boston Tea Party on the last Friday of every month between 3.30pm and 6pm.

And in partnership with Golden Hill Community Garden a monthly Sunday Club is launching this April, see page 38 for full details.

Our social is on Sunday 11 June 2017 from 2pm to 4pm at St Michael's Church, 160a Gloucester

Getting Creative for MS

Four local artists are coming together to host an Arts Fair on Saturday 15 April, 10am to 4pm at St Michael's Church Hall (160A) Pig Sty Hill on Gloucester Road, to raise funds for the MS Society.

The event organisers work under the name of Artful Dodgers, which comprises four main artists - Pete Simpson of Impsandthings, making fantasy and steampunk figures; Lloyd Lewis water colour portrait artist (who will be painting from a model on the day); Matthew Hayden Jeanes, illustrator and art educator; and Nige Burr, a landscape and wedding photographer. Nige has recently been diagnosed with MS (Multiple Sclerosis), so the artists are pleased to donate some of the proceeds raised at the Art Fair to the MS Society.

The Artful Dodgers are all teachers or staff at Patchway Community College, who wanted the opportunity to share their work and meet other talented artists. There will be 10-15 artists attending the fair, including photographers, doll makers, a maker of ray guns, jewellery makers and others.

The MS Society will be there to support the day, along with a host of exhibitors and entertainers. Living with MS isn't always easy - whether you're coping with a diagnosis or have lived with it for some time. Scientists are carrying out more MS research than ever before. Around 100,000 people in the UK have MS. Diagnosis is usually between the ages of 20 and 40. As many of you will know. MS is a charity close to my heart, so please do support this great event and worthy charity.

News from Sefton Park Primary

Pupils at Sefton Park enjoyed a wonderful day of celebrations for World Book Day on Thursday 2 March. As well as fancy dress, the new library was opened, a whole school book swap took place, and year 6s led pupil parliament activities. A great day was had, and further opportunities to celebrate the rich and varied world of books will take place throughout the academic year.

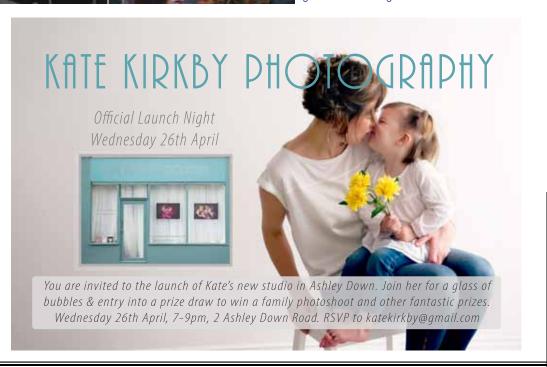

Sefton Park children also recently participated in a Safer Internet Day. Assemblies were held for Infant and Junior children, followed by a learning activity during the day, which was then discussed in pupil parliament. The main focus of our Safer Internet Day this year was around the posting of images and searching for images online. In particular, the main messages for Key Stage 1 children were around not sharing personal details online and telling adults if they are unsure about clicking on a link.

The year 6s performed a short play for Key Stage 2 children on using the internet for positive contributions, with an emphasis on what sort of online profile we would like to have and how we go about achieving that.

106th Bristol Brownies meet at St Bonaventure's Parish Hall. They are lucky enough to have two Young Leaders helping them on a weekly basis.

Alex, pictured above with the Brownies, has recently completed her Young Leader Qualification. This has included being involved in the planning of meetings. assessing leadership styles, running a Brownie 'powwow' and organising and carrying out activities, from crafts, games and trips out, to teaching the Brownies about the Brownie Promise. The qualification can also be used to work towards adult leadership at the age of 18, to become an Assista nt or a Unit Leader.

Alex originally volunteered as part of her Duke of Edinburgh's Award and has decided to stay on as a Young Leader. She is currently using her Young Leader Qualification on her CV and to help with her Sixth Form applications, drawing on her experiences as a Young Leader and her learnings through the completion of the qualification. She was presented with her certificate and badge at a recent North-West Bristol leaders gathering congratulations Alex!

If you or anyone you know would be keen to contribute as little as one hour a week as a Young Leader, Unit Helper or even an Assistant or Unit Leader, please contact the local brownie group at -106thbrownies@gmail.com.

Beard TO-GO to raise funds for LEGO at Bristol Children's Hospital

This month. St Andrews resident Simon Davis got in touch with the below request. Please do dig deep and support this local family with their fundraising efforts.

My fantastically brave 13-year-old daughter Tatiana has been in remission for 1.5 years, but has just been diagnosed with leukaemia.

Tatiana loves Lego. Whilst in hospital she has been able to play with Lego sets donated to the play team by the wonderful Fairy Bricks charity.

Tatiana is a wonderfully generous daughter and has suggested that other children would enjoy playing with Lego whilst in hospital just as she does. Lego is both stimulating and distracting – just what children need in hospital.

Tatiana has challenged me to raise some money for Fairy Bricks by having my beard shaved. The least I can do is to oblige her wish. Tatiana had a goal of £500 but she has already shot past that amount after only a few days. Colston's Girls' School are busy fundraising for the charity too.

I know the people of Bishopston and St Andrews are generous, so thank you in advance for supporting our efforts via - Cotham School Production takes its audiences by storm!

After weeks of preparation, the bleak and stripped back interpretation of Macbeth finally met its audience. Almost 500 people came to watch the Macbeths' descent into madness and the hard work of the cast and crew was rewarded by a series of wonderful performances. To pick out individuals would be a dis-service to the outstanding cast, who – whether they had one line or hundreds of lines – were committed, driven and a credit to the school,

One parent commented "I thought the production of Macbeth was outstanding! The energy, innovation and quality of production was truly exceptional and kept us completely engaged throughout. It could certainly rival, if not beat, those Shakespeare plays I have seen at the National, Barbican and Donmar Warehouse in London!"

Thank you to all staff and students who gave up their time and enthusiasm to help out. The Year 10 connexions performance is just around the corner and then - in term 6 - are our lower school shows: three plays in search of an audience, keep an eye out for details.

Spring is here and Glos Rd Central is blooming in all sorts of ways. Our planters have been full of daffodils throughout March and other plants are bursting into life. The planters were created last year by the Avon Wildlife Trust in order to create a 'green corridor' along our high street and keep both our customers and the bees happy. Traders are now responsible for the containers outside their shops. Local gardener Lucy Clements has offered to help traders get their pavement planters into shape for the summer. Lucy has a local gardening business and is also as an active volunteer at Golden Hill Community Garden. As well as plants flourishing, our shops are growing as well. New additions this month include an interior designer, a barber's, a vinyl shop, a dessert & ice cream palace and a new gift shop.

The Golden Lion pub and Room 212 are organising our annual Glos Rd Central Mayfest, which will be held on Saturday 6 May 2017. As usual the day will be a celebration of our community, culminating in the arrival of traditional Jack in the Green and his procession of dancers and musicians.

Bishop Road will be closed to traffic to make the event safe for Jack in the Green to stop and dance and for stalls and activities to take place. There will be live music from local choirs including Bishop Road Community Choir and up-beat bands Paruski and Slimline Shufflers. The Bishopston Garden Society will be selling plants in aid of Bristol's refugees and there'll be other gardening opportunities from Lucy Clements and the Golden Hill Community Allotments. Billy Jean clothes will return with their Cashmere Event and other local makers will have stalls.

Bristol Jam Plan is a community project which turns donated surplus produce and fruit & vegetable gluts - that might otherwise be wasted - into delicious preserves. Every month they donate funds raised from preserves sales to a different local charity, so the sales at Mayfest will go to Golden Hill Community Garden. They will have a stall outside Joe's Bakery and have also offered iam for the scones at the temporary café at the 212 Eco House on Bishop Lane. If you haven't had the opportunity to look round the lovely Eco House, then Mayfest is your chance. The house, built entirely from sustainable and recycled materials, is rented out as a guest house but will be open to visitors on the day with lovely homemade tea and cakes on sale in Glos Rd Central traders will be participating in Mayfest by setting up stalls and activities outside the shops. There'll be lots of food, drink and creativity for everyone all day long. It's a wonderful day to be out and about on Gloucester Road, meeting your friends and neighbours and celebrating the arrival of summer.

If you'd like to have a stall or perform at the Glos Rd Central Mayfest then get in touch with Sarah at Room 212 newtwist@mail.com

Award Winning! We've also been winning awards and prizes. Sarah Thorp, owner of Room 212 and organiser of Glos Rd Central, was recently nominated as a Local Legend by national Independent Retailers organisation Revive & Thrive. She submitted an application on behalf of Glos Rd Central and won top prizes at the recent national Revive & Thrive convention. One of the prizes is a giant interactive Advent Calendar from City Dressing, which will tie in well with the Gloucester Road Art Banners. Nuala Morey Hair & Beauty and Room 212 are both finalists in the Bristol Life Awards - as are The Grace and Bakers & Co further down Gloucester Road – the winners will be announced on 27 April so fingers crossed for everyone.

Passion and Pride Rewarded at the Bishopston Fish Bar

Bishopston Fish bar owner, Nick Lomvardos was over joyed when I met with him recently, after hearing the news his Fish shop had been recognised with the prestigious National Federation of Fish Friers (NFFF) Fish & Chip Quality Award, for the fourth consecutive time.

The award identifies fish and chip outlets that serve the highest quality food following a thorough assessment of the premises, equipment, working practices, hygiene standards and management controls, along with the quality and taste of cooked fish and chips.

As well as the Quality award, the Fish bar has been area winner for the South West of England (Avon, Wiltshire and Devon) for the past four years and in the Top 50 Best Fish and Chip shops 2014-2016 (currently waiting to be assessed for 2017).

Raising funds for Alzheimer's

The other major passion in Nick's life are his two sons, Andrea (14) and Andoni (11). He could not be a prouder father. After swimming 200 lengths last year for Marie Curie, this year the boys are tackling 500 lengths to raise funds for Alzheimer's, an illness suffers with.

Nick puts all the success down to his hard-working team – Anna, Bernadetta, Chris, Marta and Seyed, along with his continued investment into quality products.

U3A Art Groups - Are you interested in art? The Bristol U3A has several groups specialising in art. They may not be in the middle of Bishopston, but most are not too far away, and there is easy free parking at some.

So, if you have given up full time work, and are looking for new friends and interests, then you could do a lot worse than joining the Bristol U3A.

Every Friday there is an illustrated talk at St Mary's Church Rooms, Mariners Drive, Stoke Bishop. The talks start at 10.30, but members gather at 10am for coffee, biscuits and a chat. The Art Appreciation Group has talks coming up on Walter Spies and Art in the Life of Bali, by Keith Ripley, and Moveable Feasts - Food art and the al Fresco by Judy Preston.

The art history group is covering the period from Renaissance to Baroque and comparing work by many artists including Rubens, Velasquez and Rembrandt.

If that's not to your taste, then there is a monthly Thursday group, who visit various galleries and then discuss what they have seen over coffee. Or if you want, you could even join a group which improved your own artistic skills!

Full details of these and all the other groups within the Bristol U3A are on the website www.bristolu3a. org.uk. Membership costs £15 per year and most groups are free to attend. So, do visit the website and get in touch, you are guaranteed a warm welcome.

Ceilidhs & Shakespeare with FoSAP

For many people, 'ceilidhs' - or barn dances for the noncelts among us are a Marmite issue. You either love them or you find them profoundly unappealing.

Fortunately for The Friends of St Andrews Park (FoSAP) there is a hard core of 'ceilidh' enthusiasts who come back every year for our annual community event held in St Bart's Church Hall, and this year was no exception.

Around 80 regulars, with a few newcomers, gathered on a balmy spring evening to show off their fancy footwork - and for those of us lacking those skills, me included, there was thankfully no embarrassment which is, after all, one of the advantages of ceilidhs. There is no shame in making mistakes and anyway, they are unlikely to register with fellow dancers as the music and the motion moves on relentlessly. But confusion, chaos and laughter are part of the fun!

Fortunately for us, our regular caller Vicky was on hand to keep a semblance of control with the wonderful Molecatchers playing with their usual high-energy, occasionally blending traditional ceilidh tunes with brief excursion into Middle Eastern strains. Vicky even complimented us on the quality of our dancing - a rare and welcome accolade.

Fundraising is also an important part of these happy evenings and, thanks to the generosity of our friends and fellow dancers, we raised over £600 - most of which will be donated to the Red Cross Svria appeal. The balance will be used to help fund some of our work to maintain and develop the amenities is this beautiful park. Cuts in council funding for parks and open spaces inevitably means that fundraising is an increasingly important aspect of our work. For their generosity, we offer a huge thanks to all who attended as well as to the many local traders, and others, who provided raffle prizes.

Shakespeare on your doorstep

We are fortunate to have regular opportunities to enjoy the works of Shakespeare in our wonderful city. The Tobacco Factory is presenting 'Othello' this spring and The Bristol Old Vic often presents the works of The Bard. And for addicts, Stratford-upon-Avon is only 11/2 hours' drive away.

So, what could be better than Horfield Leisure Centre is managed by the UK's longest-standing leisure provider, Everyone Active. It has been voted as one of the top 10 leisure facilities in the country, and in Bristol it sits at the heart of the local community by providing fantastic sporting opportunities and wellbeing services.

At Everyone Active, we are on a mission to get local people more active by encouraging them to do a minimum of 30 minutes of exercise five times a week. Horfield Leisure Centre offers a huge variety of activities for customers of all ages and abilities to help them achieve this.

The centre has recently undergone an extensive £1.5million redevelopment to improve the facilities available, and we have been awarded the status of 'Excellent' by Sport England's leading national quality scheme, Quest.

Our fitness suite is one of the most advanced in the area. It has been refurbished with state-ofthe art Technogym equipment, meaning users are now able to automatically track their workouts to Everyone Active's free online planner. Five new 3G pitches were completed at the start of the year and virtual exercise classes have been installed as part of the improvement works.

The centre also boasts a 25m pool with viewing gallery, learner pool, three-court badminton hall, two squash courts, café and crèche.

Visitors to the centre just need to pick up a free Everyone Active card in order to enjoy all these facilities. They have the option to pay as they go, or more frequent users can take up one of our allinclusive or swim-only memberships.

We use the centre's fantastic facilities to deliver an extensive range of activities. Our award-winning Learn to Swim programme helps swimmers of all ages grow their confidence and skills in water. Those on the scheme also receive free swim sessions when they sign up, as well as discounted membership for their family.

Gymnastics, trampoline, karate, football and badminton courses are available to youngsters, and we offer a range of holiday activity camps.

Horfield is a big part of the local community, and we have built a number of partnerships that enable us to provide specialist exercise programmes. We offer sessions for customers with health conditions such as dementia, MS and cancer, and have built great links with the local GPs and Public Health teams through our Exercise Referral scheme.

The introduction of our new 3G pitches means we are now able to provide fantastic football opportunities in partnership with local organisations, including Bristol Rovers FC and the Gloucestershire Football Association. We run inclusive sessions for young people with disabilities and even offer free coaching sessions on Friday evenings with the Bristol Rovers Community Development team.

Our team is passionate about helping people improve their health and wellbeing by getting active. Whether that means introducing first-time gym goers to the site, or motivating experienced athletes to push themselves harder, our fully qualified fitness colleagues at Horfield can help everyone achieve their goals.

If you're thinking of visiting Horfield Leisure Centre for the first time, please use one of the FREE activity vouchers in this month's edition of Bishopston Matters.

There's no Taste like Rome.

Romanesca, sitting at the top end of Gloucester Road (opposite Tinto) is a tasty new pizzeria bringing Roman style street pizza, to the indoors. It offers a small, but perfectly formed down to earth candlelit space, to enjoy a sourdough pizza (with crispy bottom) with your friends and family.

When we visited on a bitterly cold Wednesday evening, it was great to find the tables were filling up with walk-ins and reservations. Myself and my two boys (aged 13 and 11) were warmly greeted by Greg Hyne, the owner, before being seated in front of a visually rich piece of wall art by Andy Council (Bristol's own Mural and Urban Landscape Illustrator).

As we were deciding which inviting pizza to opt for, Greg enthusiastically shared how he has always dreamt of contributing to the community by owning a restaurant. When the site became vacant on the cool, independent and friendly Gloucester Road, he could see the potential; and so, with full-on entrepreneurial spirit, combined with his love of baking and world travel experiences, he embarked on setting up Romanesca.

Our pizzas arrived on chopping boards, with a rustic look inviting us to delve in! They are flavoursome (the crust and base have that sourdough tang) and. although filling, they don't sit heavily. The kids were in their element!

We were impressed to see the menu offers traditional classic pizzas from £8. Starters from £4.95 and desserts from £3.50, making it an affordable night out for the family or meal out with your loved one without compromising on great tasting food. Drinks-wise, bottles of wine start at £14 and a large glass is under £5. Soft fizzy drinks, tea and coffee are available too.

To finish, we shared some light, lemon polenta cake - which was good, but we all agreed the star of the evening was definitely the pizza.

When it was time to go, we left a warm, animated atmosphere - a group of ladies, a couple and a big table of young people, Jack Johnson strumming in the background – all enjoying catching up over scrumptious pizza.

We recommend you sample the delights of Romanesca soon. Be one of the first three bookings taken each day in April, and receive 2 for 1 on Pizza!

The nursery maintained its 'Good' rating and went on to achieve 'Outstanding' in the area of child development, welfare and behaviour.

Ofsted say, "Staff provide excellent support for children's physical and emotional well-being. They successfully help children to understand their feelings and value each other's differences. longevity and close relationships with the children's parents and carers. We look forward to building on this great result in the future, both at Clyde House and Ashgrove Park."

News from The Bristol Fryer

Fresh look for Spring! As well as installing a new counter range inside, the local Bristol Fryer now has an improved outside area. A wooden canopy attractively shelters the outside dining area and, in the evening, the area is lit with blue LED lighting. The blue glow onto the sea creature window stickers, creates a great sea theme in which to enjoy your fish and chips.

Tales from Honduras

This month 24-year-old Daniel Moroz who has enjoyed living in Bishopston for the last 20 years, starting his education at St Bonaventure's, shares with us his recent volunteering experiences in Honduras, with International Citizen Service (ICS). Daniel became involved with the programme after feeling the need to set himself a new challenge!

After going through the application process and training with ICS, I was allocated to a project based in Honduras, where I stayed for 3 months, returning in December 2016. I lived with a loving host family in the little rural village of San Benito. This small village housed only about 200 people, a stark contrast to life back at home!

The main focus of our project was to redevelop a deteriorating school in the centre of the village. To do this. I worked in a team of 8 UK volunteers and 9 Honduran National volunteers. We built a new school garden, storage shed, and painted all the school walls, as well 6 different murals. In addition to this, I was given the role of Community Liaison Officer and was therefore responsible for organising activities that would engage the community in a fun and educational way. I helped organise events such as: a community sports day, Zumba ,coffee meet ups and after school clubs for the children.

The programme is demanding, but highly rewarding. It's a great opportunity for personal development and I gained a lot from the whole experience. I have learnt about a completely different culture, tried new food and learnt lots of new dances! My Spanish improved so that by the end of the placement I was able to hold proper Spanish conversations with the local people. I have gained a second Honduran family along with plenty of new friends, both Honduran and British.

A commitment of the ICS programme is that once you return, you engage in 'Action at Home'. After helping a community over 5,000 miles away, I am now looking at ways to connect and assist my local community. Although the village of San Benito and Bishopston are physically very different, there are still several similarities to be drawn in the way the communities work and their basic principles.

If you would like to learn more about Daniel's work, you can e-mail: danmoroz@hotmail.co.uk For more about ICS visit: www.volunteerics.org

Spring is in the hair at Hair Mechanics

Traditionally a time for new arrivals, Hair Mechanics is delighted to announce the birth of salon manager Vickie's first baby – Jenson Paul Williams. The little fella arrived on 1 March 2017 at 7lb, 11oz. When I popped into the salon recently I was lucky to get a look at the gorgeous little chap. As you can see by the photo, proud new mum Vickie is looking as radiant as ever with her beautiful boy. I am sure we all join the Hair Mechanics team in wishing Vickie and dad Mike – congratulations! Vickie was already talking about coming back in to join in the forthcoming Wella training day, so I am sure you will see her back at the salon for a few hours soon.

Wella will be visiting the salon this April to deliver a 'Trend Vision' training day. The stylists always find these sessions inspirational – learning more about the latest products, colours, techniques and styles.

Trainee stylist Rae, will soon have completed her level 2 qualification and will then move on to level 3. Owner Jon told me how rewarding it is to support young talent and watch them blossom into professional stylists. Rae is doing really well and will now be starting basic colours on clients.

Join the revolution – and get faster results with your fitness

It can be frustrating working at your fitness and feeling you're not reaching your goals. Three things help ensure you'll get results and stay motivated: doing something specifically designed to efficiently get results, having a fun experience that gets you hooked, and thirdly, tracking the results you get. Clifton Revolution offers each of these.

Clifton Revolution is a dedicated indoor cycling studio opening on 1 May in Guthrie Road as part of Clifton College and powered by Fox Cycling, using the latest in studio cycling bikes and heartrate tracking technology from MyZone, as well as expert Fox Cycling instructors.

Cardio tracking is a way to monitor intensity, not only to ensure you're staying safe with your workout, but also to increase the efficiency of the time you spend exercising. With this technology, riders will get the maximum benefit out of each minute.

"The Fox Cycling approach is innovative," says Angela Reed-Fox. Fox Cycling's fitness nurse. "We've taken every aspect of the cycling session apart, and developed a more scientific, evidencebased process which makes it more enjoyable and effective for everyone. Cycling is low impact, so it's particularly good for those getting into fitness for the first time (or getting back into it), and for those with joint issues. We offer newcomers, progressive and advanced classes to cater for all ages, fitness, and confidence levels.

Each session includes cardio tracking from MyZone. "This is a super-engaging, fun element, but also, it enables a safer workout," continues Angela. "We've had a few instances where the technology picked up cardiac anomalies, which after medical investigation led to life-saving surgery."

Fox Cycling instructors are trained far beyond industry standards; those who have previously qualified elsewhere undergo specialised 'top-up' training to become a Fox instructor.

Clifton Revolution opens 1st May in Guthrie Road BS8 3EZ. Details at www.cliftonrevolution. com With easy online booking, come and enjoy the welcoming and encouraging atmosphere, best technology and instructors.

Oh La La Fun With French -

Putting the laughter back into language learning

For those of you who fancied a little Oh La La on a Monday morning in the grand surroundings of Kings Weston House, the French taster session on March 13th hit the spot.

Three highly experienced local French teachers – Sylvia Aldous, Marie-Christine Page and Kerry Postle (pictured right), put their creative heads together to offer people keen to speak French an immersive experience that challenged and entertained. It was certainly a far cry from the average French lesson. Made up of interactive activities, games, treasure hunts and more, they came up with a language package that was useful, engaging, active and fun and left people wanting more.

If you missed it, worry not: more taster sessions are in the offing. In addition, based on the response of those lucky enough to have got a place on the first taster session, 5-week French language courses are now available. Designed to boost the confidence and language knowledge of anyone keen on brushing up their speaking skills in a friendly, supportive group, these courses are designed to put the laughter back into learning a language. Courses for those with rusty French are available and, depending on demand, we will offer courses for complete beginners as well as under-confident advanced learners.

Please contact the Oh La La team to express an interest in taster sessions or to receive details of language courses please do get in touch via the contact details below.

French tasters and language courses are now available as day and evening sessions.

Prices: 90 minute taster sessions: £12 / 5 x 90 minutes 'lessons': £60

Clifton High sponsorship at Bristol Museums

Clifton High School is delighted to announce a new and close association with Bristol Museums as a major sponsor for some important upcoming events. The first, 'Pliosaurus! Face to Face with a Jurassic Beast' is Bristol Museum & Art Gallery's major new exhibition about prehistoric marine reptiles known as 'Sea Monsters'. The pliosaur specimen on display was discovered in Wiltshire in 1994 and is the world's only known example of this new species. It will be on public display at the Museum for the first time this summer from 17th June to 7th January 2018. The 'pay what you think' exhibition is anticipated to attract some 70,000 visitors.

Secondly, Clifton High will also be the sponsor for the Annual Education Programme at Bristol Museums, now one of the largest programmes in the South West. Workshop experiences at all six museums are offered to pupils across the region from Early Years Foundation Stage through to A level. In particular the programme also seeks to engage schools that don't typically visit museums.

In addition to sponsoring Bristol Museums education programme, we hope that the Museum will make some use of our 'Masterclass' bus to take exhibits to pupils who might otherwise not be able to see them.

Clifton High is delighted to be supporting the educational and exhibition programmes at Bristol Museums; we look forward to a rewarding partnership. For further information -

Fledgling birds and how to help them

Every Spring we receive a number of calls to the practice from members of the public concerned about what to do as they have found a young bird on the ground, 'abandoned'. We also see a significant number of young birds brought into the practice that have been caught by cats or picked up from the ground by wellmeaning members of the public.

So, what should you do for the fledglings at this time of year?

A fledgling is a young bird that has developed its feathers but cannot yet fly. It will leave the nest and flutter down to the ground where its parent will be watching over and feeding it at regular intervals of 15 to 30 minutes. It is not able to fly back up into the nest. This is a normal stage of development for birds. Sometimes the young bird can spend a day or two on the ground while waiting for its flight feathers to fully develop.

The parent bird will be somewhere close by and there is no need to interfere with these fledglings. If the fledgling is in imminent danger it can be moved a short distance but within hearing of the parent bird. Birds have a poor sense of smell so handling a young bird does not cause the parent birds to abandon it.

The only exceptions to this are swallows, swifts and house martins who fly straight from the nest and should never be found on the ground.

Most importantly if you do have a cat or a dog please keep him or her inside the house and away from possible prev.

Removal of a fledgling from the wild is usually the worst thing that can be done and reduces its chances of survival hugely. Fledglings should be left where they are with their parents if at all possible.

Occasionally a tiny bird is found on the ground with no feathers or just fluffy down. This is a nestling that has fallen out of its nest by accident and should not be on the ground. If you are not sure if you have a fledgling or nestling, a fledgling has developed its grip and can perch on a finger whereas a nestling cannot.

If the nestling appears fit and healthy and you know which nest it fell out of then you can put it back. If you cannot put the nestling back into its nest, then it will need hand-rearing and it is best taken to a wildlife rescue centre for expert care.

Sometimes parent birds sense if there is a problem with a chick and will eject an unhealthy chick from the nest on purpose.

Attempting to hand-rear a nestling or fledgling yourself despite your best efforts, is likely to end in failure and the loss of the bird as they are very difficult to hand-rear. If you need any help or advice on local wildlife rescue centres do give us a call and we will be pleased to help.

On the run for local Greyhound & Lurcher Charity

On the evening of Saturday 25 February, the intrepid 'Team Dawglers' from Animal Health Centre, set off on a dark, wet and muddy 5k run for charity and triumphed!

'Back to Black' is one of a series of 'Wild Night Runs' which take place around the UK - crosscountry trail races in the dark, not for the fainthearted. Our race was in Leigh Woods in pouring rain and bog-like conditions underfoot. Over 250 runners took part in both a 5k and a 10k.

Debbie Coles, receptionist at Animal Health Centre had the idea to enter the race and at the same time raise money for charity. All six of our staff ran, Debbie, Su, Sam, Lela, Sophie and Nicky and also Debbie's two small children, Harry aged 6 and Brianna 4, ran in the junior race – all wearing dog ears and tails to add to the fun.

Cold and soaked we all had a great time; the running conditions were very tough and running in the dark was a new experience to all, but team spirit won the day. We finished as first team in the 5k and one of our number, Nicky Bromhall was the first lady home. A fantastic team bonding experience.

We raised over £1000 for DAWG, the local greyhound and lurcher rescue and rehoming charity.

DAWG do an amazing job taking on rescued and retired dogs, nursing them back to health where necessary, and finding them forever homes. We were cheered on by 11 dogs that came to support us on the night.

So, if you fancy a mad run in the dark do Google Wild Night Runs and join in, all you need is a head torch and a sense of adventure.

If you are interested in supporting DAWG or rehoming a dog please contact Gerry Watkins on 0117 9695332 they would love to hear from you.

And congratulations to Team Dawglers, and here's to our next challenge!

Things you didn't know about First Bristol

Greening the fleet – In September 2014 James Freeman became MD of First Bristol. Shortly after his arrival he brought the Bio-Methane powered 'poo bus' in 2015 to Bristol in time for the Green Capital year, followed a year later by virtual electric hybrid buses. In the past two years the company spent approximately £25 million to turn a guarter of its Bristol fleet in brandnew environmentally friendly buses, and is the only bus company in Bristol that invests in low-carbon buses. It now operates 100 buses that produce 95% less oxides of nitrogen emissions, and as a result will help improve air quality along the routes.

James started his 42-year spanning career in the bus industry, right here in Bristol as a grade 1b clerk way back in April 1975. He didn't become a bus man by accident; when at school he was asked what he wanted to be when he grew up, he answered: "I want to run a bus company". One phone call from the school's careers advisor to the National Bus Company was all it took.

Safer Journey cards – To help people who have certain needs. particularly those with hidden disabilities. First Bristol has created cards, which allow passengers to discreetly communicate a specific message to the driver. Available from the Bristol bus station or from its website for free, these Safe Journey cards or Better Journey cards have pre-printed wording such as 'Please speak slowly, I am hard of hearing'. 'Please be patient. I have a hidden disability'. or 'Please tell me when we reach my destination'. There are also sections where the customer can write his/her own message to the driver. www.firstgroup.com/bristol-bath-and-west/plan-journey/safejourney-card

School bus – When buses are coming to the end of their life, a bus company either sell them second hand or as scrap. At First, the company has found another purpose for them. The engineers remove the engine and hydraulic parts, paint the outside, reorganise the interior by taking seats out and putting some tables in and recover remaining seats with new vinyl. The buses are then donated as static buses to primary schools, where they are used as libraries, games area, class rooms or staff rooms. The company has done about six of these school projects across Bristol and the wider area, and one of the double deckers got a second lease of life as a complete sensory environment for a special needs school. Selling busses on is quick and easy; refurbishing them for use by primary schools takes time, effort and costs money - but it's all worth it. because the kids love them.

Affordable travel – It's worth knowing that Bristol bus fares are amongst the most affordable in the country. An independent benchmarking study of bus fares across Great Britain published in February showed that almost 90% of the UK pays more for a comparable journey than the £1.50 for a Bristol Inner Zone adult single on the company's mTicket app.

Art on the move - A bus driver of our Service 5 came up with the idea of displaying artwork from St Werburgh's Primary School on the buses to brighten up the customers' journey. The school decided to celebrate some of the religious festivals, with the first being Holi, the Hindu festival of colour by creating sun catchers to go on the windows of the bus. The children were invited on a bus trip to see their artwork and were treated to a VIP tour of the bus station, including a visit to the traffic control room. 9,000 passengers a week will see the artwork – more than any local art gallery!

I am a psychologist working in the Bristol area, providing therapy for sleep problems. This uses a combination of cognitive and behavioural techniques together with motivational interviewing.

Cognitive techniques address the mental factors that contribute to insomnia such as thoughts and beliefs about sleep and a racing mind. Behavioural therapy aims to re-establish lost connections between the bedroom and sleep and to help individuals establish a healthy sleep routine. In this way sleep becomes a more automatic process and a more reliable sleep pattern is established. Motivational interviewing focuses on the motivational processes within an individual that bring about change.

Evidence shows that these techniques help to overcome insomnia and sleep problems in the long term, whereas the effects of sleeping pills are mostly

Keep smiling with Horfield Dental Care

There was a friendly, positive energy when I met with the vibrant team at Horfield Dental Care at 525 Gloucester Road, and this is largely thanks to owner Phillip Chan (pictured right).

Phillip grew up in Cornwall and attended Cardiff University, from where he qualified in 2007. His vocational training in Bristol gave him a love of the city which simplified the decision to choose Bristol as the place to stay and set up a practice.

The dream was realised in 2014 when the opportunity to take over a practice on Gloucester Road came up – a surgery established since the 1940s! After an extensive refurbishment in 2015, of which the results are well worth it - he has not looked back. Phillip and his young family have now made their home in St Andrews, where they love the proximity to Gloucester Road, which he described as, "Simply a great place to live and work and gets better all the time".

There are two other dentists that work alongside Phillip, with the assistance of 2 hygienists, 5 nurses and a practice manager. In April there are plans to bring in a dental therapist.

The surgery offers all the general dentistry services alongside the additional, complementary treatments of - dental implants, sedation, cosmetic braces, general cosmetic treatments and teeth whitening. The team works hard to deliver the most up-to-date treatments available to their patients.

Phillip, is a well respected clinician in dental implants and can also be found imparting that skill across dental surgeries in South Wales.

Fellow dentist, Laurence Folland has recently completed an advanced qualification for dental sedation, allowing the team to deliver a safe, effective sedation service.

To assist with the pressures of modern day living, Horfield Dental Care now offers a very guick, straightforward online registration and appointment booking service via their new website. This facility has already been met with great positivity from their patients and the practice.

The final Bishopston, Cotham & Redland Neighbourhood Forum -As we know it! Can you help give this community group a future?

With the closing down of Neigbourhood Partnership structures it was no surprise that the BCRNP forum - possibly the last - should be packed out this March.

Police News - Sue Mountstevens. Bristol's elected Police and Crime Commissioner for Avon and Somerset opened the forum expressing that community links remained high on the list of priorities.

It was also reassuring to hear from local beat managers that overall crime in BS7 and BS6 was down on last year.

A new sheriff is in town - David Rockell is the new Beat Manager for Bishopston. Please say hello to him if you see him!

New - Close Pass Scheme - a new safety awareness scheme to protect cyclists and inform drivers is now in action in Bristol. See more on www.bishopstonmatters.co.uk Art Banners Gloucester Road - These colourful art banners should be displaying up Gloucester Road, this June. To help with deciding which art banners will be chosen, you are invited to visit Facebook - GloucesterRdArtBanners - just click 'like' on your favourites.

Cheltenham Road Library is on the move books and furniture are making their way up Gloucester Road to the soon to open Bishopston Library. We can't wait!

Our Parks - community centres with out a roof -The Bristol Parks Forum is welcoming volunteers to help maintain our parks. So if you enjoy gardening, fresh air, and meeting new people please do get in touch to see how you can be involved www.bristolparksforum.org.uk

What's next for the BCRNP - The organisers are dedicated to finding ways on how to continue to represent our community - this will likely rely on volunteers. Ideas given by YOU are being explored and will be debated this June, when they hope to hold a public independent forum. Stay updated and visit www.bcrnp.org.uk

Printing at Niche

Tucked away upstairs, and often to people's surprise, there is a whole other department that specialises in print and art reproduction.

Niche has developed and expanded its print department over the last 8 years; it now produces exceptional prints on a daily basis and has become an integral part of the business. The harmonious marriage between framing and printing just couldn't be ignored.

Recognising the area of Stokes Croft has its share of go to litho printers, Niche thought it wise to hone in on what tied into their brand best, focusing more on quality rather than quantity. Their 'niche' area within this market is fine art and photographic printing and they have worked hard to build up a strong portfolio of Bristol artists, photographers, designers, etc.

You can select from a wide range of papers to suit your needs; watercolour papers such as Somerset, Hahnemuhle papers are ideal for both art and photography printing, along with a range of photo papers

King of toys - Kong! When shopping for a gift for my friend's puppy recently (a very cute Jackapoo called Bertie), my first choice was a Kong Puppy. The Kong products have always been such a hit with Monty dog, keeping him amused for long periods of time. The classic Kong, ball, dental stick and jumbler come not only in a range sizes from x-small to x-large but the material they are made in also varies, depending on what age or breed of dog the toy is required for. Colour-coded, blue or pink is a softer rubber for young pups, red is normal, black is super tough for extreme jaws and purple for older dogs. Kong also produces 'Easy Treat' a food paste treat, that can be squirted inside the toys to keep the doggies interested and entertained, an ideal toy to offer when you are leaving the house.

NEW to store! Frontline Flea Treatment for Cats, along with their Household Spray, which effectively keeps fleas and ticks at bay for the whole year!

Eco-friendly toys & pet accessories - Roxford's carries a great selection of Beco products, for a wide range of pets. Their feed bowls are made out of bamboo and rice husks, making them both sustainable and biodegradable (but they are still tough enough to go into the dishwasher!). Other products include feed spoons, funky bag dispensers and collapsible bowls - perfect for when you are on the move. The organic, pet toy collection - Fido - is also an environmentally friendly range.

Magic Puppy! Local resident Sally fundraised with her guide dog Julie, to raise a staggering £5000.00 to sponsor a new assisted dog. Hitting this target meant Sally was able to name the gorgeous pup above 'Magic'.

My first experience with Kinesiology

Over the years I have been producing Bishopston Matters I have had the pleasure of experiencing many holistic therapies, all with merit, Kinesiology, however was something quite new - and wonderful.

Kinesiology was originally developed by an American chiropractor called George Goodheart and can be seen as a blend of the principles of Traditional Chinese Medicine and western techniques.

I had my first session with local resident Kat Allen (pictured right), from her calming Bishopston treatment room. As with many therapies, you start by answering some questions on your health, diet, sleep patterns... Kat explained Kinesiology is a holistic treatment addressing both mental and physical pain and imbalances. It works on the basis of testing muscle response, this enables the practitioner to get a picture of what is happening in your meridian system.

Next, I was asked to lie down on the treatment couch (fully dressed) and Kat embarked on a series of muscle tests. The process was not painful, I was simply asked to resist when Kat applied pressure to move parts of my body, some of the areas I could put up good resistance and others my body was powerless when equal pressure was applied. Each muscle test is connected to different internal organs or muscles elsewhere in the body. Kat worked systematically noting down my responses and priorities to be addressed. At the start of the consultation I had mentioned my neck and shoulders often get sore with hours at the lap top and lower back - with carrying Henry. What however she discovered went far deeper than this and Kat pin pointed both physical and emotional concerns that I had not verbally shared with her.

Specific manipulation was applied to different areas of the body where needed and then the muscles re-tested to see if this had re-balanced things. There were aspects of the session that reminded me of both Acupuncture and Bowen. For me what was completely new was when Kat looked up some natural tonics and supplements that may assist the healing of my specific problems. They were gently laid at the base of my throat, there were supplements that made my resistance, that had once been weak - resolute. I was amazed!

"Kinesiology is a non-invasive complementary therapy. I muscle test to find imbalances in the body and correct these imbalances using structural, emotional, energetical and nutritional techniques and offering advice."

She herself came to Kinesiology some years back when she endured a period of ill health. Not satisfied with simply popping pills as a fix, she turned to the holistic Kinesiology and has never looked back.

I must say I found the whole process fascinating and was lifted by the experience. I look forward to returning in a few weeks time.

News from Friends of Horfield Common

Spring 2017 has got off to a very positive start for FoHC. We have a number of new volunteers who have joined our committee to help to run the group and develop our work, and have received confirmation that two funding applications have been successful! Thank you very much to all of our volunteers for their incredible work and commitment; in a context in which decreased amounts of funding for community projects is available, this is a great boost for the group and will enable us to continue to support improvements to the common for the benefit of all park users — thank you!

New Accessible pathway – We were delighted to receive confirmation from Tesco's Bags of Help Scheme that our application for funding to install the new, accessible pathway across the common

The path has consistently been the most requested improvement from parks users (after the children's play area near the Ardagh, which was finally refurbished in 2014) since FoHC was established in 2006. The requests have been for three main reasons:

- To enable all to walk a circuit of the common without needing to go too near to Kellaway Avenue (particularly requested by families with young children and dog walkers);
- To enable people with limited mobility to be able to access the common during the winter when it can be boggy and wet for months at a time; for those in wheelchairs and/or using mobility scooters, this means large areas of the common being inaccessible, and;
- To enable the hundreds of people who walk across the common every day to access the shops and bus services that run from Kellaway Avenue to use this route year-round without ending up covered in mud and/or having to walk out of their way to avoid the boggy grassed areas.

If you would like to know more about the proposal, please see our website at http://bit.ly/2eHUe3F

New Garden Room/Meeting Space – We are thrilled to have secured funding for a new garden room and meeting space, which will replace the existing café container space at the Ardagh in early May. Cory Environmental Trust has awarded us £31,000 for a new garden room/meeting space, which will enable our volunteers to increase the amount of time they spend on the common – meeting, planning and engaging in practical work party activities to enhance the park.

Our existing container, which was refurbished last winter, will be auctioned to raise funds for our work, and we have already received a few bids from local residents, who are keen to secure it for their own garden-office spaces! It has served us very well but is limited in size and is not fully accessible. We strive to ensure that all of our work and activities are inclusive and available to all. The new garden room will provide a light, bright, fully accessible meeting space and café 'lounge' area – we can't wait to welcome you to it through the summer – do pop in and let us know what you think!

The Café on the Common will be reopening on Fri/Sat/Sun from 1 April and will be open from 10am–4pm (weather permitting!). Sara and her brilliant team will be back and can't wait to get started for the 2017 season.

NEW Regular Volunteering Sessions All are welcome and we are keen to encourage new volunteers to come join us and get involved.

First Fridays Gardening Club Join us for planting, planning and working on the Ardagh garden and projects across the wider common. Forthcoming monthly meetings, 10am – 3pm, 7 April, 5 May and 2 June 2017.

Tidy Team Sundays Join the monthly work party on the common to help keep things tidy, spruced up and looking lovely! Wear gloves, sturdy shoes and come dressed for the weather! Forthcoming monthly meetings, 2–4pm, 30 April, 28 May and 25 June.

FREE Wild Play Avon Wildlife Trust is back on the common for Wild Play every Thursday from 1–2.30pm during term-time. Sessions are for 2–4 year olds, free to attend and all are welcome!

The amazing APE Project are back on Horfield Common with their mobile adventure playground for outdoor play! Free play activities for young people take place on Thursday 5 April, 3.30 – 5.30pm with a half-term play day on 12 April, 12 – 4pm! Come join in – all welcome!

Easter Egg Hunt! Join the Ardagh Toddlers for this eggcellent event on Saturday 8 April, 10–12.30. Find all the chicks and claim your Easter Bunny! £2 entry. Tea, coffee and cakes, meeting at the Ardagh Bowling Club. The whole family is welcome.

Local History Matters Rights-of-Way: Footpaths

BHA local history research – text by Denis Wright © Photos Andy Buchan ©

John Tucker and Young Sturge surveyed and valued Horfield parish in 1841 as part of a national programme for the commutation of tithes. In the same year, Tucker advised the tenant of Horfield Court Farm on the suitability of two fields called Conygre for house building. Tucker wrote:

The East Conygre has two public footpaths across it, one diagonally from corner to corner and the other along the south side, which interferes to some extent with a regular plan for building, [and West Conygre being] too far in the background to afford any chance of immediate building.

Tucker's advice seems to have been taken. Elton Terrace was built alongside Gloucester Road during the 1840s and there were still no buildings on the remaining parts of Convgre fields at the publication of OS 1881. Rights-of-way clearly had some effect on regulating land owners even in the early-19th century.

Horfield manor court dealt with all matters touching on rightsof-way in the parish, as in a presentment of October 1801.

The Jury aforesaid present that a Path or right of Way lying through a Piece of Ground called Long Mead in the Occupation of James Higgs is obstructed.

It is ordered that the same may be opened and a Convenient Stile put up.

The implication was that Higgs as occupier would usually bear the cost but the passive voice ('is obstructed') suggests that the court may have been sympathetic to his case and would listen to what he had to sav.

The court may also have had an interest in improvements in agriculture, not least because small fortunes had been made from supplies during the French wars. A presentment of October 1814 seems to have been praising a 'newly erected Cow house' in a newly designed Barton, which required a new line of footpath rather than a defence of something customary.

It is ordered by this Court that the Footpath leading through the Home Mead of the Messuage now occupied by Henry Hewlett be turned from its antient course and in future pass behind the newly erected > Cowhouse in the said Close terminating on the north at the old stile and passing through the gate of his Barton next the pond or through a hatch to be erected by the said Henry Hewlett for that purpose.

> Despite Hewlett's apparent success, his business like many others failed after the war and he was declared bankrupt in 1817.

Rights-of-way were also linked with customary practices which had little to do with agriculture, as in October 1799:

The said Jurors present that a Path or Churchway lying through a piece of Ground called Churchways being part of a Copyhold Estate belonging to Mr John Usher has been obstructed and stopped up and do order the same be forthwith opened and a Path made and Stile put up in the place where the former stile stood.

Tyne Path - running up from

Elton Road to Tyne Road

Henry Hewlett's footpath was said to follow an 'antient course' and it seems likely that John Usher's 'Path or Churchways' was at least as old as the places it linked: the parish church and the hamlet of Horfield Downend. Footpaths were too small to merit a name, Churchways being an exception because it served a specific function. Tyne Path, the diagonal line across East Conygre, was never anything but a footpath, albeit with decorative stone walling and flagstones.

Humpty Dumpty... had a great show!

The Bartholomites share with us an account of their 2017 panto...

We had a fantastic time once again. overcoming many hiccups along the way this year. A few key members of the group stepped down after the 2016 show for a well-deserved break, namely our pianist and some of our technical crew.

variety of people ended up helping us out at practices but were unable to play for the actual show. Three weeks before the panto we found Simon (Pianist no. 7) who gelled with the group straight away; we were really blessed to find him - rumour has it he even wants to come back next vear!

Our new director did a fabulous job, never appearing to be stressed. Everything seemed to click at our dress rehearsal, better late than never! We had lights, music and action!

The cast of 45 (only 13 of which are adults) were on top form and our children's chorus was particularly great. We have tremendous support from the local community and played to houses of well over 100 each night.

Bishop Road Receives a £500 award for their new Green Space

Bishop Road Primary School has been awarded a £350 Wessex Watermark to help create a new green space at its urban site in Bishopston. Sue Goodland, Wessex Water's Education Officer, recently handed over the cheque at the field where the trees will be planted.

Bishop Road Primary School is creating a nature garden, allotment, orchard and wildflower area to make open-air learning spaces for its 800 pupils. The school is the largest primary school in Bristol and firmly believes the children will benefit from learning about the connection between food and their natural environment.

"We are creating an allotment classroom for each year group to cultivate" Joe Emissah, the school's deputy Head said. "There will also be a small orchard of native. locally-sourced fruit trees and a wildflower area to attract insects and help pollinate the orchard. In fact the garden and green spaces has been such a success that the school is planning to incorporate it into its curriculum as an outdoor learning classroom. Our Wessex Watermark Award will help us buy more trees both native fruit trees for our orchard and native hedgerow trees. Our Award will enable the school to buy some larger saplings so the children can see the trees maturing sooner rather than later."

The Watermark Award provides funds for environmental projects within the Wessex Water area. Now in its twenty third year, it has supported over 900 environmental initiatives. Organised by The Conservation Foundation, all projects are judged by a panel chaired by its President - David Bellamv.

News from Faifield High

We are delighted and proud to be one of the most oversubscribed schools in Bristol!

Fairfield High School has had a record 446 applications for places for 2017. It means the secondary school in Horfield is oversubscribed for a third successive year. All 216 places have been offered to prospective students. Details of waiting lists and how to appeal can be found on the Bristol City Council website.

Fairfield is an 11-16 school that serves a diverse inner-city community. It is rated by Ofsted as Good with Outstanding features. The school is part of the Excalibur Academies Trust, which provides a strong support network.

Head of School Nick Lewis said: "It is fantastic that Fairfield High School is now one of the most oversubscribed schools in Bristol. This is an amazing testament to the hard work and dedication of FHS staff, students and parents. It shows that our community really values the work that everyone does in school and in the wider area."

Celebrating World Book Day

Fairfield High School (FHS) hosted a whole range of activities to celebrate World Book Day with photo booths, cake sales, competitions, dressing up, lost word hunts and book challenges; and all with a common theme in mind - a celebration of reading.

A number of students and staff took part – FHS is particularly proud of its Assistant Vice Principal, Ben Spence, whose photo (top right) made it onto the Guardian's website!

News from our Ashley, Bishopston & Redland Councillors

Ashlev ward news

The council's annual budget was passed in February, and the measures in the budget involve changes to a number of council services.

One of these is Neighbourhood Partnerships (NPs), which will have the majority of their budget removed. Consultation has begun between Council officers, councillors and local communities about how NPs are to continue in what the council hopes will be a 'community-led' format. At last month's meeting of the Ashley, Easton and Lawrence Hill NP there was a discussion about the process and timescale for moving forward, and there will be further meetings to explore these issues before the end of June.

The community-led neighbourhood organisations that emerge out of NPs will still receive support from the council. All areas will receive a budget in order for regular meetings to be held throughout the year. These meetings can be used to discuss local issues, and, if applicable, for decisions to be made about spending Section 106 and Community Infrastructure Levy money (which comes from certain kinds of development schemes in the area when they are approved by the Local Planning Authority). In addition, a budget will be available for small grants to the community in the most deprived areas of the city.

There is also the question about what the boundaries of the community-led partnerships will be, which may not necessarily be the same as what they currently are for the NPs. It may be that Ashley, Easton and Lawrence Hill will not continue as one grouping. For example, it could potentially make sense for St Andrews to join together with Bishopston, Cotham and Redland's partnership area. As councillors, we want to support what will work best for our communities moving forward. If you'd like more information about these proposals and the consultation process (including future meeting dates), you can contact Gill Calloway at gill.calloway@bristol.gov.uk.

In other news, a meeting was held between Ashley and Redland councillors Mike, Jude and Martin and the council's Cabinet Member for Transport, Cllr Mark Bradshaw, regarding parking and highway safety issues in the streets on either side of Gloucester Road. Cllr Bradshaw agreed that the problems in the area warranted attention and further consultation with residents about what should happen next. We'll be able to provide more information about this in a future issue.

The council's Sustainable Transport team is currently planning and delivering schemes through the Cycle Ambition Fund, which aims to improve the network of walking and cycling routes across the city. One of the routes they are looking at is from

The Arches to Southmead Hospital, and there are preliminary plans for improvements to the Zetland Road-Gloucester Road junction to make it safer for cyclists, which will be taking shape in the next few months.

Finally, we're aware that there are plans for a student accommodation development at 147-149 Gloucester Road (above and behind the Peacocks store). When the plans are uploaded to the council's planning portal we will be sure to look at them closely and discuss with planning officers any issues of concern.

Redland ward news

The new Bishopston Library - Following the closure of the old Cheltenham Rd library at the end of February, we're pleased to report progress with our new Bishopston Library on Gloucester Rd.

Flooring is now complete and, at the time of writing, shelving and furniture that's been in storage is being installed, after many years of delay. The books will arrive shortly. There have been delays with data cables - essential connections for library services to start - so these are being chased. We hope this does not slow down opening in the month ahead.

While the library is due to be operating for the rest of this financial year, the recent council cuts mean it will be one of the many facilities that are subject to a consultation later this spring on a reduced library service for the city. While that's not good news, the important thing for now is to get a new Friends group up and running and for anyone interested in running classes or activities to get in touch with us - we want to see this thriving as a community facility. Contacts from the old library will be asked if they would like to stay involved. As well as the flexible library space at ground and first floor levels there's a small meeting room, a toilet, and a lift to make it fully accessible.

The rest of the new development below the flats is under review in the light of budget cuts and viability. The new strategy for public toilets after budget cuts is to find other facilities that can be offered to the public along high streets (the parks toilets are a separate service), which can mean more locations offering to serve as public conveniences that can be publicised with a local map (as has been done in Bedminster). There's a very small proposed retail unit and this may be revisited to see if a more viable space can be offered. All the new buildings, including the flats above, are subject to a service charge.

Parking - There's continuing pressure from local residents both sides of Gloucester Rd for parking to be reviewed and managed better. Local councillors for both Ashley and Redland wards met with Cabinet member for Transport Mark Bradshaw recently. He has promised news within weeks of a definitive proposal that he has requested. It will be the basis for setting the test of support among residents and others like local businesses. It will inevitably require a high level of agreement among local people for anything to be developed. Once we know what this says we can progress work with residents where there might be requests for extensions or new parking schemes.

Manor Park parking issues - Following disguiet from residents about various aspects of the proposed extension to the Redland residents parking scheme to cover Manor Park and nearby roads, we held a site meeting in the street with officers. This was a lengthy, detailed, and respectful debate around the various issues that residents have brought up - by no means all agreeing with each other on the priorities for progressing, amending or rethinking the advanced proposals. Topics ranged over the parking restrictions, double yellow lines, times, and permit issues, plus things like bins on pavements, driveways, and signage, and a request for an alternative approach called a Parking Permit Area. We're now awaiting a report back from officers and a meeting to decide the best way forward. While we appreciate not all views can be satisfied in one plan, we have been promised a six-month review of what gets done.

The last days of BCR NP - We can't be too specific about the meeting on 16 March at time of writing, but there are plans for reports from the various working groups of the neighbourhood partnership, plus a space for plenty of debate about what people want to see taking its place to manage the neighbourhood in future. Please do get in touch with us as soon as possible if you'd like to be involved in shaping future plans for how our area gets managed in future, proposing practical projects you'd like to contribute to, and offering ideas for priorities in future.

Keep Bristol Tidy efforts – We were glad to take part in the recent Spring Clean efforts by the Streetscene group and Keep Bristol Tidy. Everyone can play a part in keeping streets free from litter, and reporting things like flytipping and tagging. Without the voluntary efforts of people locally things would rapidly deteriorate. Well done to all the volunteers tidving side streets near Gloucester Road, areas like Cotham Gardens and Redland Green! 50 sacks of rubbish were collected across BS6/BS7 in one morning. But a brief ten minutes a day can make all the difference in a street and the Streetscene group can supply litter pickers and bags if you'll help where you live. Contact info@bcrnp.org.uk with the subject streetscene to get involved.

Bishopston ward news

Ashlev Down Double Yellow Lines - We have been told that Council officers are still analysing the feedback from the consultation on double yellow lines in the Ashley Down area. The results should be released in the next few months. Once we know the results and recommendations made we'll let local residents know.

Bishopston Society Meeting on Air Pollution See page 31 for details on this public meeting taking place on Tuesday 4 April, 7pm at the Cricket Club.

Bristol North Baths and Bishopston Library

With the new build project at the Bristol North Baths nearing completion, we wanted to add our support to the call for those interested in a 'Friends of' group. Such groups make libraries all the more successful. and may be especially important for Bishopston Library to help either secure its future as a councilrun library, or to keep it in community use if not.

Neighbourhood Partnership - With the imminent removal of funding, the Bishopston, Cotham and Redland Neighbourhood Partnership is considering alternatives for the future. We want to continue in some form but need help from residents to do so. Our next meeting, on a date to be confirmed, will be based around working out the details of what structure we want our future work to take. But please don't wait until the next meeting to get in touch! If you're interested in playing a part, big or small, in the future of community working across the area please let us know!

St Andrews Bowling Club - Congratulations to the St Andrews Bowling Club, who have secured a £50,000 grant from the Landfill Communities Fund for the refurbishment of their clubhouse. We're excited to see the results of the work, which will be completed next year.

Community Matters...

St George's needs stories... St George's Bristol, the city's foremost venue for classical, iazz. world music and folk, is researching its history, with an ambitious Heritage Interpretation Project currently underway. The Great George Street concert hall is working with volunteer researchers to find out about its former life as a church, the design of the Grade II* listed building and its metamorphosis into a music venue in the 1970s and 1980s.

One part of the project will see the creation of an online digital archive, with voices very much at its heart, and St George's needs your help. Do you have memories of coming to St George's when it was a church? Did vou have a memorable wedding day? Do you recall something funny? Something unusual? If you have a story to tell, they would love to hear from you. The team is also looking for more volunteers, specifically to assist in capturing the voices for the oral history project; and also, any items that might be lurking in the attic that relate to the church or the venue. If you have something to contribute to the St George's Heritage project, or would simply like to know more about it, please contact Doreen Pastor, Community Learning & Volunteer Coordinator, by email: doreen.pastor@ stgeorgesbristol.co.uk

Horfield Baptist Church – help us celebrate 125 years!

It is Horfield Baptist Church's 125th anniversary this year and there will be a special day of celebration on Saturday 6 May. The church will be open from 10 am to 4 pm.

There will be: an exhibition of photographs, memorabilia and personal memories of the church's history. The church's Fresh Ground Café will be open for coffee, cake and light lunches – at its usual good value prices! Other activities are being planned – check the church website for details.

The open day provides a great opportunity to find out more about the history of one of Gloucester Road's landmark buildings, have a look inside, meet some of the people involved with the church today and enjoy some refreshments. You will be very welcome.

Horfield Baptist Church, with its impressive façade and twin towers, is a well-known sight for people using Gloucester Road.

The church was founded in 1892 by Baptists who had previously worshipped in Broadmead. The first worship building was a tin tabernacle, but the rapidly increasing congregation soon outgrew it! The foundation stone of the church we see today was laid in 1900. The Memorial Building to its right, which now houses the church café, was added in the 1920s.

The Grade 2 listed church has an Arts and Craft feel. It is constructed of Bristol rubble stone with dressing and towers of Bath Stone. The interior has excellent woodwork, with galleries on three sides resting on near-classical iron columns. A striking feature is the 1905 organ and casing. There is a choir platform and a very well carved perpendicular pulpit.

It remains home to an active and friendly church who would be delighted to welcome you on 6 May or at any time during this anniversary year.

Find out more about Horfield Baptist Church, its history and to share any memories you have of the church at www.horfieldbaptist.net
