n Dear Readers...

As you can see from the front cover, Bishopston Matters is delighted to be celebrating 15 years in print this November! During this time there have been many developments both in my personal life (new home, marriage and two children) and in our local area; some shops have gone from our High Street but many of the ones that featured when I first started remain, and that is testament to the traders' hard work and superior service they offer.

On this note on outstanding traders, it is that time of year again when we start to think about Christmas, and ask you to show your love for Gloucester Road and independent local businesses, when you shop for all of your seasonal goodies. There is so much variety that you will be spoilt for choice. We have a section in this magazine that will assist you in kick-starting some ideas for gifts.

If you need a pit stop when you are out and about shopping, why not take advantage of our Reader Offer - 15% discount at Areeshaz Dessert Café on Gloucester Road – a delicious sweet treat here will certainly refuel the batteries! See page 19.

Local Christmas markets are back this year, starting with Bishop Road's on Thursday 24 November and then Glos Rd Central's on Thursday 8 December.

We also bring you news on a selection of local charities and initiatives that you can easily support that will help bring some festive cheer to those less fortunate than ourselves. From one tin of food or box of chocolates to pledging part of your government heating allowance, whatever you can afford to donate will be gratefully received by local charities and those who receive the care packages.

Always a highlight in my year is the North Bristol Art Trail that takes place over the last weekend in November. Check out the centre pages to find out what the artists have lined up for their visitors during the 2022 event.

Take care until next time,

Kerry X

I work therefore I am... adjusting to retirement

The major change retirement is a major life change, a phase that can last as long as 20-30 years, yet we spend more time planning for a wedding! Around one third of adjusting to retirement. Planning for this time of life is based on financial needs, but not on the needs that make for better personal outcomes, such as how to,

retirees have difficulty

Identify a new purpose

- Make use of time meaningfully
- Keep connected and relevant
- Maintain physical and mental fitness

The experience - the positive buzz around retirement and expectation is so great, it can be hard to admit vou're apprehensive or unhappy. Just 5% of retirees experience positive changes in wellbeing on retirement. It is normal to feel anxiety, grief, emotional turmoil; this may not appear straight away. 25% of retirees have difficulties resulting in poorer well-being and mental health (loneliness, stress, anxiety etc).

These are some common feelings from speaking to local people approaching, or in, retirement:

- I am not sure who I am now and how to describe myself
- My work is me
- What will I do without any hobbies?
- No structure makes me feel I'm free falling

The good news! It doesn't have to be like this! Planning for the personal side of retirement has been found to improve well-being, contributing to a more positive and happy retirement experience. Nonfinancial retirement planning takes account of newly acquired time, supporting you to decide how you use it: experiences, relationships, conversations, making a difference.

Time is the most valuable asset of retirement: there are potentially many years ahead in this phase of life and creating a sustainable plan can be challenging, but is an essential foundation for one of the biggest transitions in life.

Claremont

News

Claremont school has been busy this month celebrating our 70th birthday. A big party was organised and the whole school came together at the Henleaze site. All the current pupils from 3 years old in our Early Years classes to 19 in our post 16 classes joined in the fun. Past students came back to visit and previous members of staff as well as friends from the local community joined us too. It was a chance to get together and share current news and memories of our school. We loved chatting and communicating with so many people and there was a friendly buzz in the hall.

There were some big boards with old photos from the 1950s onwards and a slideshow of memories on the big screen. Students were able to find old photos of themselves and their teachers from years ago and see the changes over time.

The school council designed a cake to be raffled; we chose a lemon cake covered in stars with a big 70 on top. We sold tickets on the day and helped run the café, greeting people, gossiping and taking the money. We used our communication devices to say hello and ask for news. The lucky winner was a past deputy head and all our efforts raised £180 for the school.

Bristol Bears come into our school regularly and support our P.E. and they ran an activity at the party, enjoyed by all. Prizes were won and we had lots of laughs. When we questioned students, Bristol Bears came out as the top activity, along with the chocolate cakes obviously.

Many of the staff said they liked meeting old friends and ex-students and finding out what adventures they have been having at college and in new jobs. Other students said they had a brilliant time singing together and painting.

Flamingo Chicks and Soundabout music who do regular sessions at school also joined in the fun with movement and music. Everyone we asked really enjoyed the afternoon and we hope to have a fantastic 70th year and make many new memories at Claremont as we move up the school.

We look forward to sharing more Claremont news next month.

A great bunch of Kids!

As part of their 'Community' badge, members of the Monday and Wednesday night Beavers colonies recently paid a visit to Bridge Farm in neighbouring Stapleton.

The farm is one of the homes of the community project Street Goat. This Bristol-wide project assists local people in urban farming, teaching them how to manage and care for livestock to produce milk, fibre and meat.

The goats are doing a great job keeping the pasture land and vast brambles in check. The Beavers enjoyed watching the goats go up onto their hind legs to nibble blackberries and one even climbed the lower part of a tree!

The animals were very patient and tolerant of the children, some of them were so friendly because they had been bottle-fed as kids. At the farm they have some lady goats – we enjoyed meeting Lillian and Betty - but the majority were male.

As you can imagine, the Beavers approached this challenge with some gusto - the area was enthusiastically flattened in a couple of minutes!

All the kids had a wonderful time together and the troop look forward to returning again.

To find out more about Street Goat visit - www. streetgoat.co.uk/about

This activity was made possible thanks to the volunteer leaders. The 63rd Bristol need more volunteers to join the leadership teams. If you are interested in helping to bring adventure, fun and life skills to local children in the years ahead please

Kelly's Music Lessons

For those of you who don't know, we exist down a small alleyway on Pigsty Hill, occupying the studios behind the charity shop, next door to the B&A church. It's a bit obscure, and unless you know what you're looking for, you can easily walk right by us! We compensate with a large, obnoxious sign out on the main road, and that seems to do the trick.

On the one hand, our success up until now has been a result of working really hard. But truthfully, it is largely due to the curiosity of the community of Gloucester Road and Bishopston, who have wandered down the alley way exclaiming 'Hello?', because they want to find out if their daughter or son can have a music lesson with us!

So, in short, thank you! It's a real pleasure watching the students come in and out, hearing them get a little better at their instrument every week, getting a little more confident. It's awesome! It's beginning to take on a life of its own. We're excited to see where it takes us. Hopefully, one day, out onto the Gloucester Road, in a shop of our own (soundproofed, of course!)

LITTLE BATHROOM AND BOILER Company

As the saying goes 'All the best things come in small packages' and this is true of the Little Bathroom and Boiler Company (LB&BC). Their showroom may be small, but their scope to deliver on fabulous bathrooms and kitchens is HUGE! I met up with owner Jamie at the family business based at 32 Gloucester Road North.

Jamie has a lifetime of experience fitting kitchens, bathrooms, boilers and plumbing. He was driven to open his own business to enable him to work with the best range of products and not compromise on quality when working on projects in peoples' homes. He only works with products he would happily fit into his own home. He shared, "Being able to deal directly with the manufacturers enables people to have exactly want they want at a fair price." Something that is all too important at this time.

Bathroom Design & Fit – Jamie shared, "We advise people what all the possibilities are for their projects – can a toilet be moved? What style of bathroom furniture will best suit that space? We only sell people products that will work well in their specific bathroom, we want people to have the best design to suit each individual space as well as their personal taste." LB&BC can offer people an in-house, 3D design of their bathroom, so clients can clearly understand the potential and be happy with their final design. The business can design and supply a bathroom or see the design through to full installation.

LB&BC is delighted be able to offer leading technology in bespoke bathroom mirrors. They are the only supplier in Bristol (and one of only two in the country), who can supply hand-made in England mirrors, in bespoke sizes and shapes. They can be customised to light up, change colour, heat up, have blue tooth and a shaver socket!

LB&BC also do great work with kitchens. In order to offer their customers the best available deal to suit their needs, they work on a 3 tier system.

- Tier 1: Clients can visit the LB&BC showroom, view samples of surfaces, finishes and furniture. Select a kitchen from a catalogue and have it delivered to their home for self-installation - resulting in a large saving
- Tier 2: All of the above but with the kitchen plumbed in by LB&BC
- Tier 3: LB&BC will design, supply, fit and plumb in your bespoke kitchen

Jamie is keen for people to get a good deal on their kitchen without compromising on quality. "Whichever tier you select, you will receive goods of higher quality than alternatives in other larger, nationwide retailers".

As their name would suggest, LB&BC have years of experience in supplying and installing boilers too.

Siobhan Magnus manages the showroom and produces kitchen and bathroom designs that you will be delighted with. She can of course discuss boilers too. Do get in touch and get your project underway soon.

Girls Football at Shine

The recent roaring success of our Lionesses in the European Championships set the country alight with footballing passions, and girls' youth football has exploded with more girls than ever having an interest in playing the beautiful game.

Shine is on your doorstep; there is nowhere in Bristol offering more opportunities for girls to play sport in a safe and fun environment. Our team of top-class, FA-qualified coaches help the girls develop both their physical and mental footballing

What is running?

Shine Wildcats is a fantastic introduction for girls as young as Reception, playing indoors on Wednesdays at the Shine Community Sports Hall in Henleaze. Focusing on basic skills and technical work followed by small-sided football matches, so that players can put their new skills into practice!

Shine Pumas girls' football squads are the fastest growing girls' junior football set-up in Bristol, offering girls in Year 3+ the chance to follow in the footsteps of our Lionesses playing in a combination of training sessions, friendly and competitive fixtures, skills, techniques and knowledge of the game.

Football for girls in Years 7–10. We have girls who started playing football when they were younger and are continuing to play through their senior school years. Come and play indoors at the Shine Community Sports Hall with our squad.

News from Red Dragons Martial Arts

I hope that this message finds you well. We have been incredibly busy and have been welcoming lots of new members.

We have some really fun and enjoyable adult classes. I find it extremely interesting that we seem to have a lot more women training with us than other martial arts schools. I have several martial arts instructor friends, and they have said that they find it hard to recruit women.

We are lucky to have so many ladies training with us. I think it is because we are a very friendly bunch. There are no egos (apart from Sensei's – ha!). We have a supportive, community feel and the ladies have enjoyed numerous fun nights out.

The sessions are tough (as well as being lots of fun) but there is a clear progression through, and this allows everyone to see how they can improve.

We have a few spaces left in our adult classes so ladies (and of course men), if you are looking for a new challenge. Something for you. Something that will help develop your fitness and flexibility. Then please contact us.

Regards, Sensei See you soon.

New home cinema demo room

On Saturday 8 October the team at Ablectrics had a fantastic day celebrating the launch of their new home cinema demo room. The presence of a Back to the Future Delorean created a great buzz, with visitors having fun taking pictures in the showbiz car.

Over 250 people enjoyed attending the premiere of the cinema room. sitting in comfort, sipping champagne while experiencing the very best in light, picture and sound. The state of the art lighting enhances the cinematic experience and is something special.

Ablectrics teamed up with Cinemaworks. (recognised as the best home cinema design and installation company in the South West by the Home Cinema Alliance) to develop their luxurious onsite demo room.

Ablectrics owner, Fraser shared, "Creating this stunning cinema room was a natural development. The demo room allows people to experience what can be achieved in their own home first-hand, as do our interactive displays representing kitchens and bathrooms in our lighting showroom."

If you are looking to have a home cinema installed or have a lighting project in your home or garden that you would like some expert advice on, do get in touch with Ablectrics to book an appointment.

It's that time of year again when time goes quickly and chaos can ensue in the run up to the big day! Fear not, keep it local, start early and actually enjoy the experience of Christmas shopping.

Both in store and online you will find a diverse range of gifts from local businesses; stunning pieces of art to eco-friendly homeware, sweet treats to food hampers, gift vouchers for hair and beauty to bottles of Bristol gin, scented candles to vintage jewellery, gaming keypads to pet advent calendars, dry flower bouquets to music lessons, and much more!

Shopping on our local High Street is a far richer experience than a big shopping mall. Why not meet a friend and reward yourself with a meal or drink at one of the fantastic cafes or restaurants on completing your shopping?

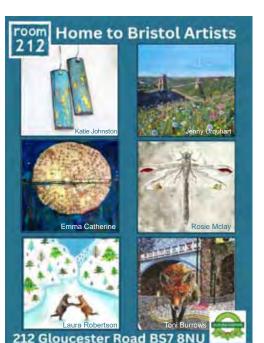

There are Christmas markets to attend; Bishop Road hosts theirs on Thursday 24 November and Glos Rd Central's Christmas market takes place on the evening of Thursday 8 December.

As well as supplying the perfect gifts, Gloucester Road has everything you need to create delicious Christmas bakes, party food and drink and of course the special dinner on the day itself.

Pearce's hardware has you covered for gravy boats, baking trays and the all important sellotape! Pop into Ablectrics to choose from a sparkling range of festive lights for inside and out.

We are blessed to live within this caring community and for all that we have. Christmas is a great time to share the love and support those who may find the extra expense of the festive season even more of struggle this year. Local donations of seasonal goodies or cash can be made to Family Food Action, North Bristol & South Gloucestershire Foodbank and the B&A Church 'Love Christmas' project. Totally Toys are once again taking donations for the 'Every Child Needs Christmas' campaign. You can purchase your trees from Sefton Park School or from Aidbox charity, to help raise funds for good causes.

I wish you a wonderful festive season. If we all pick up some stocking fillers from our High Street, we will help make sure they are here to see in a happy New year. Love local this Christmas.

What's new at the green room

A new home for their salon director - it is with both sadness and happiness that I share the news that salon director Jo, is heading to Cyprus in early 2023. I heard all about her plans while having my hair cut recently. After many years leading the Green Room on the Prom, Jo and her partner have decided it's time for a new adventure. Rest assured however, the salon itself will remain open, with the day-to-day running being overseen by her more than capable team, while Jo assists from home. The salon is a huge part of Jo's life so she is still keen to be involved.

If like me, you have a specific type of hair (unruly curls for me!), Jo is carefully working out which of the Green Room's highly experienced stylists -Karen, Paul, Gemma and Adrienne - to pair you with; we will all be in safe hands. Jo plans to embark on her new life in February 2023 and we wish her all the very best. There is still a good amount of time to get your cuts and colours in before she goes!

Kevin.Murphy COLOR.ME GLOSS - While I was in the salon, Jo showed me the new colour ways for the fantastic COLOR.ME GLOSS treatments. The product is a semi-permanent hair colour, with bondbuilding technology made with vitamin C, to deliver colour with strength and shine. As well as looking fabulous with coloured hair. Jo explained there is also a clear treatment in this range, which is ideal if you want to keep your natural colour but give it a lift with a super-glossy finish. This can work extremely well if you wish to keep your grey hair but desire some shine.

Festive goodies! - The Green Room will have some Christmas gift packs of styling products available along with popular gift vouchers.

Cleaner wanted - The local salon is looking for a reliable person to work an approximately four-hour session each week, to clean the salon throughout. They can be flexible on a day, working around when the salon is closed. Please contact Jo for more info.

Treat, make, bake!

Festive sweet treats!

Scrumptiously Sweet is set to bring joy to many people's worlds this festive season. If you are creating your own advent calendars. you will be spoilt for choice when it comes to sourcing delicious surprises for each day.

There is a huge range of edible tree decorations in all different designs - I particularly like the stacks of choc presents tied up with gold thread.

Special confectionary makes a welcome gift; friends will be sure to get into the festive 'spirit' on receipt of individually foiled liqueur keas or lavish fruit designs. A large bar of indulgent chocolate is always on my wish list and there is a huge range to choose from, ranging from -Gin and tonic to oat milk chocolate bars. There are chocolate bombs which you add to milk as well as chocolate cigars.

New this year, you will find some beautiful candles that make great gifts at the back of the shop.

Christmas creations

Set within Scrumptiously Sweet, the Yarn Shop has a fabulous range of sumptuous, chunky, glitzy, multi-coloured yarns to knit up something special this festive season. If you would like some inspiration there is a huge collection of patterns to select from - garments to knitted snowmen, reindeers and elves! As well as yarn, there is good stock of knitting, crochet and sewing needles, along with threads and embroidery silks. To complete your homemade creation, you can choose from a wonderful range of fancy ribbons and decorative buttons. There are some knitting sets, pom-pom makers and Dolly bobbins that make great gifts for kids.

Seasonal bakes

I loved the seasonal baking tins shaped as sugar canes, reindeer, snowmen, Santas and stockings. If a large cake is a bit ambitious the kids will love making ginger bread with their festive-shaped cutters. Once baked, you can present your cake on one of Scrumptiously Sweet's metallic, foiled boards; there is a wide range of colours, shapes and sizes to choose from. Ready-to-roll icing is always popular at this time of year along with the metallic and festive-printed cupcake cases. Whether you like traditional festive cake cuffs with holly and robin figurines or a touch of edible alitter or star sprinkles on your cakes. Scrumptiously Sweet has it all.

B&A Love Your Neighbour Winter Appeal

This winter, Churches across Bristol are opening their doors to be Warm Spaces where people can come and find warmth, food and access to the support they need. Local B&A church are playing their part by providing hundreds of hot meals cooked at B&A and delivered to these Warm Spaces each week. They'll also be delivering their Love Christmas gifts and boxes to people accessing Warm Spaces this Christmas, offering hope and support to those struggling the most.

Please consider making a gift to help them raise £30,000 for the Winter Appeal. The money raised will go towards the set-up costs for the B&A kitchen so that they can continue to provide hot meals throughout the winter, and towards Christmas gifts and boxes of supplies to be given away to users of Warm Spaces.

Find out more and donate online at www.babristol. org/winterappeal or visit B&A Food Pantry at B&A church, 160a Gloucester Road, BS7 8NT any Saturday morning between 10am and 11am.

Areeshaz Dessert Café

It is wonderful to welcome Areeshaz Dessert Café to Gloucester Road (opposite the Prom). This sweet business opened its doors in September 2022 and has received fantastic feedback from the community along with 5 star Google reviews.

Family business – It was great to meet with owner Imran, who runs the family business with his brother Atta. The venue is even named after Imran's daughter. Areeshaz. For the last four years the brothers have worked at a respected dessert business. They felt there was a need to fulfil on Gloucester Road and with the opening of Areeshaz, are pleased to bring their knowledge and passion for the industry to the area.

Quality desserts - Areeshaz specialises in Belgian waffles, Gelato, Crepes, Freak shakes, Cookie dough Milkshakes and Coffee. There is a wide range of scrumptious hot desserts as we enter the colder months. Imran told me they work hard to source quality ingredients to ensure they serve the best tasting desserts.

Proof is the pudding! I can recommend the generous sized waffles; you can select your own favourite toppings but I opted for milk and white chocolate sauce with a scoop of banana gelatoindulgent but truly delicious! My family were delighted when I returned with waffle, chocolate fudge cake and rich gelato; it brought huge smiles to all of our faces - and taste buds!

Everyone catered for – This dessert specialist has a good range of vegan options, and will make up vegan versions if you spot something else on the menu that you fancy. They are happy to accommodate allergies; please just ask.

Visit with your Reader Discount voucher

The venue is open from 11am to 12pm, 7 days a week so there is plenty of time to visit and enjoy your favourite dessert, with your 15% discount voucher!

REASON INTERIORS

Reason is celebrating one year in their new, spacious Gloucester Road venue and 12 years of trading on our fabulous high street.

The larger shop has enabled them to extend their ranges; they now stock jewellery from Timi of Sweden. As well as producing gorgeous designs, Timi care about the people they work with, how their products are made and the positive impact they leave in the world.

Other new ranges include Eco Braided Rugs, which are made from 100% recycled plastics and can be used indoors and outdoors. Luxury socks are a further addition; you can select from Pairs of Scotland, producing alpaca socks, sustainably made in Britain and sumptuous Sommerville slipper socks, with a little glitter and anti-slip base.

As always, Reason has a fantastic selection of candles; the St Eval range continues to be a strong seller and now F.Y.G (Find Your Glow) sustainably made in the UK, traditionally dipped Pure Beeswax candles and The Botanical Candle Company, based in Dorset, are all proving to be customer favourites too.

Jill Pargeter's collection of hand printed decorative textiles have been an instant hit. Her work is inspired by folk art and the arts & crafts movement.

As always, there are plenty of vintage treasures to be found; some gorgeous glass cake stands, colourful French, ceramic bowls and biblical figurines stood out.

All this and your festive favourites - Angela Harding advent calendars, luxury Christmas cards, wrapping paper, garlands, vintage tree decorations and much more!

Christmas at Roxfords Pet Shop

Open 7 days a week • Free local delivery

Countdown to Christmas with a tasty advent calendar! This year, to help your pets get into the festive spirit, Roxfords has created their own advent calendar. Each day of December your pooch will enjoy a tasty, natural meat treat from the stylish box.

Festive treats for all pets - The small, furries can enjoy munching on their Christmas Flower 'n' Forage Tree from the comfort of their Winter Hav Cottage. Rabbits can have fun gnawing their Woven Star Trio or Christmas Wreath made from natural corn leaf, loofa and wood slices. Felines will have much fun with a Foot of Festive Cat balls – including crinkle, tinsel, bells and squeaky! I loved the Cauliflower Cheese, plush, catnip-filled toys.

There is a wide range of gift-boxed treats for both cats and dogs - look out for rawhide Nutcracker soldiers in chicken and peanut butter flavour. Doggies would love to receive a soft plush rope toy; select from Rod Reindeer, Prince Penguin or Richie Reindeer and many more!

NEW! Veterinary food - Integra Protect is a licenced Veterinary product which Roxfords is now pleased to be permitted to sell. There are wet and dry feeds in the range, suitable for both cats and dogs. This specialist food addresses four common problems: Intestinal, Urinary, Sensitivity for cat and dog, and Diabetes in cats.

Family Food Action Xmas Appeal

with four community partners -The Vench in Lockleaze. St. Paul's Children's Centre. Felix Road

Adventure Playground Easton and May Park Primary School Eastville.

As Christmas approaches, we're all feeling the pinch of the cost-of-living crisis, but this is going to be an especially hard winter for low-income local families who just can't afford food and fuel. Families who, due to a storm of global, societal, and economic factors are going to bed hungry and sending their children to school without food. Families from all walks of life and ages who have resorted to using foodbanks for emergency supplies not because they want to but because they have no choice.

So, Family Food Action is putting out a special plea for donations to help give these children and families some relief this Christmas. You can donate:

- toiletries and treats things that immediately fall beside the wayside when budgets are tight
- money (one-off or regular) so FFA can increase deliveries of nutritious foods to our partner organisations - who work with families in the most deprived areas of Bristol and provide food within the context of wider support your time and skills - become a FFA volunteer

You might even consider setting up another FFA street collection hub. You'd join an expanding web of streets in North Bristol who collect weekly donations for FFA. It's a great way of getting to know your community better, taking action and creating links with other communities in need of support.

The group recently organised an amazing My Community Celebration event which took place at Horfield Quakers Meeting House on Gloucester Road. It was a great opportunity to meet, connect and chat to lots of lovely people. So many brilliant local people and groups showcased their skills and talents - SendaWelcome and Creative Shift, Tai Chi with Aishling, Keep Fit to Dance with Eileen and Badger Forest School, to name a few! We also couldn't have done it without fantastic volunteers from the community! Many people asked when the next one will take place, so watch this space!

There are a few ways that you can get involved with the work we are doing...

- 1. Join the Action Group!
- 2. 'My Community' Bristol has money available for Horfield, Lockleaze, Bishopston & Ashley Down, and Ashley wards. This money is to invest in ideas that help start and support community

Exciting work & collaborations at niche

As always when I visit Niche, there is a great buzz in their shop and gallery. While I waited to speak with director Rupert and manager Siobhan, I enjoyed seeing a happy customer collecting a much-loved print that had been beautifully framed, along with her 9 year old daughter's fantastic piece of art - 3 large insect illustrations, which had been cut out and mounted to give a 3D effect. As well as working with numerous professional artists and businesses, Niche is pleased to take on individual items to frame that are precious to their owners.

When I started talking with Rupert and Siobhan they had news on many exciting projects to share.

North Bristol Art trail - Niche is busy working with several of the artists who exhibit on the much anticipated annual art trail. The event takes place over the weekend of 26-27 November. During this weekend, Niche will be open Saturday as normal (9am to 5.30pm) and Sunday 10am to 4pm, to enable people out on the trail to visit their gallery space at the back of their shop. Over the weekend Niche will be showing work by artists from the Bristol charity, Artists First. 11 pieces by 11 artists will be on display to view during the trail. On Sunday 27 November, there will be an opportunity to meet some of the artists and the organisers.

Artists First is a group of disabled artists with learning difficulties. They share. "We believe that as a group we can support each other and that we can do powerful work together; things that we could not do alone."

RWA Annual Open Exhibition – This dynamic and varied exhibition invites art submissions across a wide range of media, and is a showcase of some of the most exciting artists from across the country and beyond. Niche is delighted to be framing the work of many of the artists who have been selected.

The local business is also pleased to sponsor the Creativity award, which looks at works that use materials in an interesting way.

This year they selected a piece created by Rose Vickers. Niche were delighted to award Rose her prize of £250 cash and £250 of printing and framing, at the exhibition launch evening. The RWA Open Exhibition runs from 8 October 2022 to 8 January 2023 and is well worth a visit.

Wildlife Exhibition at Future Leap -

Niche is pleased to be collaborating with their neighbours across the road – Future Leap, on their 2023 Wildlife Photography Exhibition. Amateur photographers are invited to submit an image, that if picked, will form part of the exhibition. Niche will be printing and framing the work of the successful applicants and also providing a prize of £100 vouchers for the worthy winner. Niche look forward to selecting a winner with Future Leap. Submissions will open on 1 November 2022. Keep an eye on Niche's social media and futureleap.co.uk to find out more. The exhibition, which launches on 24 January 2023, will spend a month at Future Leap then come across to Niche's gallery for two weeks.

News from Glos Rd Central

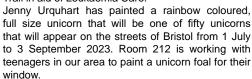

We're approaching the most fun time of the vear here at Glos Rd Central. We have the North Bristol Art Trail on 26–27 November to look forward to, and then our Christmas Street Party on Thursday 8 December.

With so many independent shops full of locally made art, gifts, jewellery and cards in our section of Gloucester Road, it's natural that we are a buzzing hub during the North Bristol Art Trail weekend. Angie Kenbar will be in the exhibition space at Artigo, while Room 212 owner Sarah Thorp will open her studio to show her jewellery and paintings alongside popular artist Jenny Urguhart and guirky card maker Maita Robinson. These Room 212 artists will hold a preview evening on Friday 25 November to raise funds for the Unicornfest Sculpture Trail in aid of Leukaemia Care.

GLOS RD CENTRAL

Jenny Urquhart

Visit northbristolartists.org.uk or pick up a trail map at Room 212 to discover where all the local venues are.

We're excited to announce that our popular late night opening and Christmas Street Party will take place on Thursday 8 December, 5.30 - 8pm. This is a great opportunity to get your Christmas shopping done with the joy of bumping into friends, enjoying festive food and drink and getting inspired by our lovely shops.

There'll be lots of creative things to do at the Christmas Street Party. Paper Plane will be encouraging children and adults alike to create cutout snowflake decorations outside the shop (be sure to pop in to see their new makers from Bristol Made body products to new jigsaws). Room 212 will have a huge array of Christmas decorations and also the opportunity to make your own. Rambling Rose will be selling wreaths, festive bunches and jam jar arrangements, plants and more.

Giles butchers will be frying up their burgers to sell and Sidney and Eden will have their delicious hot Christmas drinks - mulled wine, mulled cider, hot spiced apple and hot chocolate with Jameson's or Baileys. Gopal's Curry Shack will be serving their delicious veggie curries from Pawson's - they always sell out as they're so delicious! Preserve will spill out onto the pavement with lots of seasonal goodies. Joe's Bakery will have delicious festive treats for you to sample and buy.

Nola Interiors has lots of sustainable Christmas gift ideas including - luxury Lambswool scarves and wool throws, eco-friendly recycled blankets, organic scented candles and diffusers, coloured glass vases, jute baskets and an array of wooden and glass

> Christmas The shop is celebrating five years trading on Gloucester Road on 29 November with a newly refurbished shop exterior and a beautiful mural, painted by Room 212 artist, Carla James. Owner Finola will be giving out Prosecco to celebrate during the North Bristol Art Trail, so do pop in.

Jo Jo Beauty will be offering mulled wine and mince pies and giving away mini goody bags with Neal's Yard samples and a chocolate. Owner Jo will be doing hand massages and her other therapists will be on hand to chat to people about what they do. Nuala Morey Hair will be offering free hair treatment samples.

Osna Therapy will be delighting you with their new products, including doggie products 'Molly's Mates'. The Gurt Lush choir will sing Christmas Carols outside, and also outside Sainsbury's, to raise funds for their sponsored charity 'Feed the Kids Project' in Uganda. Osna will be supporting this charity by donating the proceeds from selling their popular mulled wine!

Billie Jean Cashmere event will be returning by popular demand - a great chance to stock up on gorgeous pre-loved sweaters, hats and more. Oddsox will have a special pre-Xmas promotion for all you bargain hunters.

In the meantime, during November, Gloucester Road Books will hold three different discussions and signings, including an audience with Bishopston favourite Lia Leendertz who will be discussing her brilliant book Almanac: A Seasonal Guide to 2023 on Friday 18 November at BA Church Hall, 7pm. Lia's books are available at Gloucester Road Books and at Room 212.

Bristol pupil, aged 12, selected into U18s Severn Stars Netball Academy

Twelve-year-old Jina (pictured), a pupil in Year 8 at Badminton School in Bristol, has been selected to join the prestigious U18s Severn Stars Netball Super League Nova Academy based in Worcester.

This phenomenal achievement for someone so young will enable Jina to train and play against some of the most talented netball players in the country.

It comes after Badminton School's appearance on CBBC's new TV series 'Our Boarding School', which featured Jina during an episode where her skills on the court were noticed by a talent scout.

Jina said: "I am very proud of myself for getting into the Nova Academy because it has always been a dream and I am glad I achieved it at the age of 12. Playing with older players makes me nervous sometimes but they are really nice and caring. They are also extremely good which aspires me to train harder."

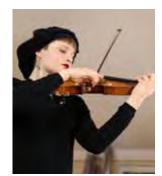

Miss Elsley, Assistant Director of Sport at Badminton, said: 'I am so incredibly proud of Jina and what she has achieved. Not many people get the opportunity to experience plaving at topflight level, so this next year will give Jina an insight into what it truly takes to play at elite level and whether it is something she wishes to pursue longer term. Jina has worked so hard, overcome so much adversity and shown so much courage to achieve what she has."

Helping Hedgehogs

The population of wild hedgehogs is declining rapidly with a loss of their natural habitat as well as a huge loss as road kill each year. At this time of year our hedgehogs are particularly vulnerable as they prepare to hibernate and are often brought in to us by members of the public as they are found wandering and looking lost and sad.

Hedgehogs usually hibernate between November and March. Juveniles need to reach a minimum weight of 600g to be able to survive the winter. Any small hedgehog found at this time of year should be taken to a vet for a check up to decide on the best way to proceed and care for them.

Slightly underweight juveniles can be housed in a garage or shed as a temporary home using a cardboard box with hay, newspaper or leaves until they reach the necessary weight for release and hibernation. Care should be taken to avoid too much human contact to avoid the hedgehog becoming unnaturally tame.

Hedgehogs wake up periodically throughout their hibernation to find food so a supply of dry cat or dog biscuits close to the hibernation nest is a good idea to help them.

It is not normal to see adult hedgehogs out during the day as they are nocturnal. Often this is a sign of a problem so take it to the vet for a check up.

You cannot usually persuade a hedgehog to live entirely in your garden; they travel up to two miles each night and are great climbers. However, there are some things that you can do to make your garden more attractive to hedgehogs to encourage them to stay around.

Leave areas of your garden wild with piles of leaves and logs. These will provide an attractive nest as well as a source of food in the form of slugs, worms and beetles. A piece of wood against a wall can be used by a hedgehog to climb over and you can provide a hedgehog house, homemade or bought.

Leaving out fresh food and water will encourage hedgehogs to return. Use tinned cat or dog food (not fish flavoured) or dry biscuits. Food formulated for hedgehogs is also available from pet shops.

Never feed hedgehogs milk as it can cause a diarrhoea; instead supply water in a shallow bowl.

Remove all plant netting or sports netting when not in use to prevent a hedgehog from becoming entangled and injured. Make sure there is an easy way out of ponds, hedgehogs are good swimmers but need to be able to easily climb out of the water. Cover drains and holes. Check compost heaps before forking over and grass before mowing or strimming. Do not use slug pellets that may harm hedgehogs.

Bonfires should be freshly made up before lighting, if not, do check thoroughly for any hedgehog that may have crept into the base.

If you do find a hedgehog please do contact us for advice and if necessary we can advise about transfer to a suitable hedgehog rescue for further care.

The more we can do to help these wonderful creatures, the greater their chance of survival both individually and as a species.

Tips on how to keep your dog safe on walks

by Alima Dog Adventures

Hi. I am Alima from Alima Dog Adventures. I specialise in solo outings, for Bully and working breeds. The pandemic saw a huge rise in the number of new doa owners; sadly it also brought a huge rise in canine anti-social behaviour. This often leads people to ask,

"How can I keep my dog safe?"

There are many precautions you can take to keep your dog, happy and safe. The first one being:

Get off your phone and engage with your dog!

I have a dog; I am also a professional dog walker. It saddens me, to see a lot of dog owners and even dog walkers glued to their phones! Use this time to build a stronger bond with your pooch. Why not play scent games with your dog, or maybe throw in some training? I include brain games in all my outings. In fact, one of the packages I offer is "Brain Games". These games encourage focus, help build positive relationships and transform a walk into an adventure! Leaving your dog far happier and more tired than a simple walk ever could.

Being off the phone gives you the chance to observe your surroundings and the people and dogs in it. Some of my clients (dogs) are socially sensitive, or socially inexperienced. It is my job to keep them safe. I assess each dog individually to create a unique experience. Do too many dogs or too much activity trigger a negative reaction, within your dog? Or does such an environment prove so exciting that your dog just stops thinking altogether? In either case. perhaps it would be better to take them somewhere less stimulating

Be aware of how other dogs and owners are behaving: are the dogs in a state of unbridled excitement and rowdiness? Does the owner or walker appear confident and in control? If in doubt, then walk another way. I often change direction mid-walk if I am uncomfortable with what I see.

Try not to allow your dog/puppy to run up to dogs uninvited. You are storing up trouble for vourself and for your beloved pet! It causes both expectation and frustration in your canine friend, as well as being annoying to other dogs and owners. Dogs are sociable creatures, but sociability does not mean your dog saying "Hello" to every dog in the park! Teaching your dog manners involves managed meetings and a shed load of hard work!

I find long lines (not to be confused with extendable leads) invaluable. They are incredibly versatile. In fact. I would go so far as to say - never leave home without one!

Avoid gridlocks. Is your entrance/exit, jammed with dogs and people? This can be particularly frustrating. People and dogs milling around, and you just want to get in or out! Is there another entrance you can use? There is zero shame in finding another gate. This leads me on to my next tip -

Be your dog's advocate

Never, ever put your dog in a situation that is triggering for them, if you can avoid it. I have asked people to move from gates, I have told people to keep their dogs away from mine. I will not allow another person or dog, to upset my own dog or my clients. I want each client to enjoy their adventure with me and I want each owner to know, that I will do everything I can to keep their beloved friend safe.

I do hope you enjoyed this article. If you would like to find out more, please get in touch.

North Bristol Art Trail 2022

The annual North Bristol Art Trail will be taking place on the weekend of 26–27 November 2022 in venues around Bishopston, Redland, Horfield, St Andrew's, Ashley Down and Henleaze, with a preview evening on 25 November at certain venues. 110 artists will be showing their work in homes and community venues and you are warmly invited to come along and see what they have been creating.

Now in its 21st year, the North Bristol Arts Trail is one of the most important events in the Bristol art calendar. The artists taking part are a mixture of professionals and amateurs. Taking a walk around the trail you will find paintings, prints, ceramics, iewellery, sculpture, photography, textiles and much more. There will be something to suit all budgets, from larger original pieces to inexpensive gifts and greetings cards.

But an art trail is not just about buying art. The North Bristol Artists are passionate about being creative. They love making their work and they really enjoy being able to show it to you, even if you are not an art-buyer. So please feel free to come into artists' homes and see what they have on display. There is no pressure to buy, or even to chat to the artist, so don't feel anxious about visiting any of the trail venues - you are very welcome!

Many artists will be raising money for charity over the art trail weekend. Some will be donating the money raised from the sale of artwork to their chosen charity, while others will be providing refreshments to raise money. The North Bristol Artists know how lucky they are to be able to spend time on their art, the thing that they love. Using their art to raise money for good causes is a way of helping others too.

A number of our venues will be offering refreshments and music, which is another good reason to have a walk around the trail and have a great day out in this creative area of the city. Our Virtual Gallery will be available to view from October and you can pick up art trail maps in shops and cafes around the trail area from this time.

Follow the North Bristol Artists on social media and visit the website to sign up for the email newsletter and to view the artists taking part.

Shrinking Horfield

BHA local history research - Andy Buchan ©

The history of Horfield is one of a shrinking parish; before the Norman conquest in 1066, the parish of Horfield included Filton and stretched North to South from Gypsy Patch Lane to Zetland Road.

At some point after the conquest and before 1148, the first split occurred, when Filton became a parish in its own right.

And so things remained for the next 700 years. Horfield carried on as a scattered rural parish, with a population of perhaps 200 people, the majority of whom had jobs connected with agriculture. But the city of Bristol was growing and expanding and people living and working in the city, were increasingly choosing to live outside of the city in neighbouring parishes. One example was a retired family who moved from Kingsdown to a newly built house on Gloucester Road, near Nevil Road.

The next change occurred in January 1845 when the new parish of St Andrew, Montpelier was created, partly out of Horfield and partly out of St Paul's parishes. That this change had long been planned may be evidenced by the fact that the church was already built. This church was bigger, longer, and wider, than Horfield parish church even after its second enlargement in 1847. This was the prelude to the later formation of Bishopston.

This and the later change occurred because houses had begun to be built in the southern part of Horfield, some distance from the parish church and the scattering of farms in the immediate surrounding area. As far as is known Horfield has never had a nuclear or linear village centre, but appears to have had clusters of farms, with some surrounding workers houses, for example at Downend. That the population of Horfield was increasing as the 19th century drew on may be seen in the enlargements to Horfield parish church that occurred in 1836 and again in 1847. The censuses for Horfield from 1841 to 1871, show that employment in Horfield – at least the northern part – revolved around agriculture and related occupations. Gradually the occupations that people declared suggest that more were working in the city or the adjacent suburbs.

In 1862 came the next major change, when the bottom part of the parish of Horfield, together with parts of the parishes of St Andrews and Stapleton, were brought together to form the new parish of Bishopston. This took a smaller area than the split with Filton but took the majority of the population.

This change was brought about because, not only was Horfield parish church too small, but the bulk of the people now lived too far from the church. Maps from the second half of the 19th century show that, between 1850 and 1880, many of the roads and houses we would recognise today in 'Bishopston' had been built, while in Horfield besides housing going up Gloucester Road to Ashley Down Road, there was only limited development. Linear development up Gloucester Road continued but did not expand east and west until later.

How rural, and lacking services/facilities the heart of old Horfield was, may be shown by an accident which occurred in 1874; the doctor had to come from Cotham and the police also came from elsewhere, because there was no police station. There is a police house shown in Horfield after 1894, and there is said to have been a police house in Bishopston, but there is none shown on pre-1900 maps, that I have found.

Celebrating 25 years of the Moggery re-homing centre

Set in the heart of Bishopston is the Moggery Cat and Kitten re-homing centre. Founder Christine Bakva set up this amazing venue 25 years ago, and has been working tirelessly ever since to try and make the world a better place for our feline friends. This month she found a few minutes to catch up with us to share some of the highs and lows of running this important charity.

Have you always been an animal lover? Oh yes, I grew up surrounded with animals - tortoises, corgis. budgies, goldfish, stray cats that we fed and they never left! At school I told my career teacher that I would like to be a vet but was told firmly. "that was no job for a woman!".

What led to you set up the Bristol Moggery?

After years of volunteering and fundraising for many Bristol charities, I saw the need for the Moggery and established the kitten and cat re-homing centre in 1997 to help both feral and domestic felines.

How many cats do you support each year?

In our first year we helped around 90 cats and now each year we take in 250 cats and re-home 250 cats (not all the same ones). There are some grumpy cats and felines with faces only a mother could love, who take some time to be placed. Since opening we have helped 6,000 cats and with people's support, we could do even more each year.

How can people support the Moggery? We always welcome new volunteers; this can be a great hobby to take up during retirement. We have people who give two hours a week and some that enjoy visiting two days a week. We are also looking for more local foster homes for mums and kittens; families often enjoy having all the fun of kittens without the commitment of grown-up cats. And of course, fundraising and donations are essential to keep us going. Everyone at the Moggery is a volunteer and gets paid richly in cat love and cuddles!

What is the best thing about being the founder of the Moggery? Every year I bottle-feed kittens because their mother has sadly died or rejected her babies. It is wonderful when the babies survive and you later wave them off to a very good home.

What is the hardest thing about running the Moggery? When a dear cat you have worked hard to save doesn't make it. And the continuous fundraising is tough. It is a hard occupation, with high and lows every day. You can be heartbroken in the morning when a cat has been put to sleep and then in the afternoon you can experience a lovely family who visit the Moggery to adopt two kittens but leave with three so the family isn't split up.

Is there one thing people can do to make a difference in the welfare of cats? Get a recycled pet and don't buy new! All of the rescue centres are bursting at the seams with cats and kittens. People assume rescue cats have problems but this is not true: the majority have been impulse buys by people who quickly realise they do not have the space, money or time for a cat that can live 20 years plus.

What are the future plans for the Moggery?

As well as continuing are rescuing and re-homing work, it is important to me to try and resolve the problem of too many unwanted cats, and that lies with neutering. The Moggery will be expanding their assisted neutering problem, targeting areas that we receive high-numbers of unwanted kittens from. Most people don't realise a kitten can get pregnant at 17-18 weeks, owners can't afford neutering and the problem spirals.

welcomes four trainee solicitors

Bristol law firm, Barcan+Kirby, continues to strengthen its team with the appointment of four new trainee solicitors. Courtenay Salway, Grady Hali, Jessica Bradley and Laura Brimson all started their training contracts in September 2022.

Grady Hali and Laura Brimson started their careers with the firm as Paralegals before taking up Trainee Solicitor contracts. They have both started their seats in the firm's Family department. Courtenay Salway and Jessica Bradley are new to the firm. Courtenay has previous experience as a Paralegal in child law and has now started her first seat in the Private Client department. Jessica Bradley, who has experience working with a charity to provide practical and emotional support to litigants, has started her seat in Clinical Negligence.

The trainees will undertake four seats altogether and get to experience the firm's array of legal services whilst moving between Barcan+Kirby's six offices. They will have the opportunity to shadow senior solicitors within a variety of specialisms, experiencing a varied client base in departments ranging from conveyancing and commercial services to contentious probate and family law.

The trainees will also benefit from the Barcan+Kirby Training Academy which was launched in March 2022 and provides an opportunity for budding lawyers and other trainees within the firm to share their experience, build relationships and receive training. The training covers expansive industry-relevant skills such as business development, marketing, finance and compliance.

Bill Willcocks, Managing Partner at Barcan+Kirby, commented on the appointments: "Congratulations to Courtenay, Grady, Jessica and Laura on their appointments as Trainee Solicitors. Not only will our training programme provide them with a strong foundation on which to build a career in the legal profession, but it is also an integral part of the firm's success. Trainees are given an advanced level of responsibility from the onset and the opportunity to work directly with clients on complex casework. We look forward to supporting them in their development over the next two years."

Harvest week was in mid-October - we ran workshops for the children hosted by CAFOD, a Catholic overseas aid charity, and held assemblies for all year groups. These assemblies had a harvest theme and gave pupils the opportunity to express our thanks for the food the earth provides and remember those in need of food. The week culminated in a whole school Harvest Mass in St Bonaventure's church – a beautiful harvest loaf was generously donated to us by Joe's Bakery and given as an offering.

Drought Tolerant Gravel Gardens

This summer, for the first time in recorded history we saw temperatures exceed 40 degrees in the United Kingdom, with temperatures very close to that in 2019. The parks and gardens across Bristol and the rest of the country became dry and dusty, with fires breaking out spontaneously in the countryside's fields due to the extreme heat.

Occasional thunderous, heavy downpours couldn't penetrate the dried, cracked soil of the land, creating flash flooding and problems for infrastructure. Hosepipe bans were put in place in some parts of the country, with government adverts on lessening personal water usage aired.

We are told that by 2050, 35 degree temperatures will be commonplace in the South of England, with airport runways melting, electrical problems for our train lines and roads buckling. Our gardens will also feel the impact unless we alter the way that we create Gravel gardens can be created in spaces large and small, on poor free-draining soil, making them the perfect idea for gardens that have lots of builders rubble in them. Due to this, you don't need to bring in additional compost to add nutrients to the soil, which cuts down on the inputs for your garden.

Once watered in during the planting stage, if using sun loving, drought tolerant plants you shouldn't need to irrigate them going forward.

There are a huge variety of plants that are great for gravel gardens. Use Euphorbia as evergreen. structural anchor points around the garden, with a mixture of hardy perennials, Mediterranean herbs, and succulents. Herbs that we love using in British gardens are well suited; Lavender, Rosemary, Thyme, Oregano, Marjoram and Sage. Choose plants that will creep and spread through the gravel. Choose plants for height and colour.

Choose plants that will self seed. This will give you new plants each year, naturally dispersed around your garden. You can then decide whether to keep them or pull them out when they are small if they don't create the effect that you want. Verbena bonariensis is a fantastic plant. The airy high stems have delicate purple flowers at the top and are vigorous self seeders. They are loved by bees and butterflies, are super low maintenance and don't need to be watered.

Use plants like Phlomis (Turkish Sage), Perovskia (Russian Sage) and Cistus (Evergreen Rock Rose), with evergreen grasses like Stipa tenuissima. The pom pom flower heads of Echinops, Alliums and Eryngium (Sea Holly) work well floating alongside. Hardy exotics like Yucca and Agave look good with a mixture of succulents. The possibilities are endless; give it a try and you'll be very pleased with the results!

Investing in volatile times

After the last 20 years of economic highs and lows, it is fair to say we may be getting used to living in volatile times. The last two years have been no different. It can be difficult to feel confident in your investments when things aren't going your way but there are simple rules to follow to ensure you stay on the right path.

When is the best time to invest?

Have you heard the saying, 'time in the market, not timing the market'? There is no sure fire way to predict the best time to invest; what is important though is investing as early as possible and not being put off when markets are at a low point. In fact, stocks may be cheaper to buy at this time!

The magic of compounding (growing an investment by reinvesting any returns) can help to generate wealth. The difference of just a few years can have a massive impact on the end result so the first rule is to start early if you can.

How long should I invest for?

As above, no one knows with certainty when markets will rise and fall so trying to time the market is seldom successful. The sooner you can start investing, and the longer you can invest for, the more likely it is that you will achieve your financial goals - regardless of any short-term blips.

During periods of volatility, particularly if you notice the value of your investments has fallen, it can be tempting to exit the market or make drastic changes to your portfolio. Your money needs to be in the right place to recover in value and make a profit if markets go up, so it's important not to sell an investment as a knee-jerk reaction if it's value goes down temporarily.

Take your time, stick to the plan and avoid making hasty decisions.

What should I invest in?

A diversified portfolio can help to iron out the ups and downs of stock markets and also, vitally helps to avoid exposing your portfolio to undue risk. You should always hold some funds in cash in case of emergency, but other investments offer better growth potential. When one asset class is performing poorly others may be flourishing, and vice versa. For this reason, you should avoid concentrating your investments in just one area.

We are here to help

Every year we conduct whole of market, independent research to ensure that our clients benefit from providers that can demonstrate:

- Good Financial Strength
- Strong performance whilst taking on an appropriate level of risk
- Wide range of risk profiles to suit client requirements
- Range of investment solutions to meet objectives
- Good levels of service

Our research gives us confidence in the advice we provide to you to ensure your investments are diversified and we are here to guide you through the good and the bad. If you ever have any queries about market volatility or ever need our help, we are always here.

If you feel you could benefit from having a relaxed chat with one of our specialist advisers about your later life financial needs, we would be so pleased to offer a complimentary financial planning review.

Why not join the local Walkers & Talkers?

It is always wonderful to discover a new local group that has so much to offer our community and even better when it is totally free to attend!

Former Gloucestershire County Cricket wicketkeeper, Any Brassington, kindly invited to me to attend one of the Walkers & Talkers weekly meetings, hosted at our local Seat Unique Stadium.

The meetings kick off at 10am with friendly chat over some complimentary teas and coffees (thanks to Andy's business Finders-Keepers), then the group have the opportunity to take a stroll around the cricket ground, before returning to enjoy a guest speaker.

The group is open to anybody and often ex-Glos cricketers join the meetings too; players that have come along to enjoy a chat include - Andy Stovold, Paul Romaines, Ian Crawford, Nick Finan, Steve Windaybank, Gary Sainsbury and Dean Hodgson.

Andy does a fantastic job sourcing interesting talkers for everyone to enjoy. It was great to learn too, that the largely sporting celebrities who have visited, expressed to Andy how moving and beneficial they found talking with the group - so it's a win-win for all! Those who have taken part were delighted to give something back to the fans and community. Guests include: England and Glos cricketer Syd Lawrence, footballer Geoff Merrick, rugby player Gareth Chilcott and boxer Glen Catley.

I spoke with group member Alison Spurrell, who lives in Horfield and is a life-long member at the County Ground; she shared, "I love Walkers & Talkers, we meet lots of lovely people and the talks given are always brilliant. I only really know about cricket but all the people who have given talks have been so interesting and engaging - just really nice people. Andy does a great job welcoming and introducing people. We always stay on and have lunch at the club and make a morning of it."

The morning I visited, rather than a speaker, the Bristol Male Voice Choir gave a moving performance. The power of these men standing together to sing gave me goose bumps and by the response from the crowd. I do not think I was alone.

Members of the choir shared what a wonderful community the choir was and encouraged anyone who was considering a new hobby to give it a go. You don't need to be able to read music – just enjoy singing. The men all spoke with such passion about the friendships they had formed, the exciting opportunities the choir had presented them with and how special it was to stand together and sing. Learn more at www.bristolmvc.org.uk.

Steve Lewis is a choir member and assists with the Q&A sessions at Walkers & Talkers. After singing

'You'll never walk alone', which has strong sporting ties. Stephen said. "If you join us at Walkers & Talkers or the Bristol Male Voice Choir, one thing is for sure, you will never walk alone!"

And that is really the point of this group. Andy told me he got the idea for Walkers & Talkers during lockdown. He spent time each week checking in with some of the ex-players and then when allowed, they would meet on the Downs for a walk and a talk with coffee in hand. The number of people who joined him each week grew and everyone felt so much better for the interaction. As soon as restrictions allowed Andy started to set the wheels in motion for Walkers & Talkers. He looks forward to meeting many more people - men and women of any age are welcome.

Walkers and Talkers meet every Wednesday morning at 10am, usually at Seat Unique Stadium, Nevil Road, BS7 9EJ but on occasions at Ashton Gate, BS3 2EJ or The Memorial Stadium, BS7 0BF. To find out more do get in touch with Andy, he couldn't be more enthusiastic or welcoming.

News from Ashley, Bishopston & Ashley Down & Redland Councillors

Bishopston & Ashley Down ward

Downend Road and Muller Road - In September we held a public meeting for the residents of Downend Road and the surrounding area, to discuss the impact of the new Muller Road project. Residents have been concerned at the increased traffic, and dangerous driving that has happened as a result. We want to thank residents for attending and all their feedback. The decision has been made to block off Downend Road from Muller Road while the works continue. We have had lots of positive feedback about this, but we also know that the situation is not perfect. We have discussed medium and longer-term plans, such as a School Street and longer-term campaigning for a Low-Traffic Neighbourhood, and we thank you all for your input. We are continuing to monitor the situation and work with officers to find workable solutions.

Kennington Road – We have been disappointed to learn that the issues with Kennington Road have not yet been resolved, and have been putting pressure on the council to fix the road surface and reinstate the double-yellow lines as a matter of urgency. We have been told that there have been attempts on a number of occasions, but that the weather or parked cars have stopped the operation. We are currently investigating why more resident engagement has not been carried out to ensure that parked cars do not stop this important work. We will continue to work with the council on this for the speediest remedy possible.

Pavement parking petition – This month we are launching a petition to ban pavement parking. This is one of the most frequent topics we, and our other Bristol councillor colleagues, get emails about. We believe that pavements are for people to walk on safely, for those with mobility aids to travel on easily and for parents to be able to push prams and strollers along without having to walk in the road. The only way to tackle this issue would be through the creation of a city-wide law that allows parking enforcement officers to tackle anti-social parking, which blocks pavements. We need 3,000 signatures for it to be debated at full council; you can sign by visiting: actionnetwork.org/petitions/pavement-parking 5G mast on Ashley Down Road – We understand a lot of local residents were concerned about the installation of a 5G mast on Ashley Down Road so close to their homes, and that many put in objections due to its size. We are pleased to announce that after we called it in to be looked at by the committee, we have been told that the application has been rejected. A big thanks to all who got in touch about this.

Supporting the Ardagh The Ardagh has been doina some amazing things of late, and we have been happy to support them in whatever way we can. The Family Food Network had an open day there recently, and we went to visit and chat to volunteers, and we also hosted a litter pick there, covering the whole common. We currently want to help them with fundraising to improve the footpaths and basketball courts, which need upgrading. If you can help at all, please visit www.crowdfunder.co.uk/p/footpaths-improvements-basketball-nets-project and give what you can; there are tea and cake, and lunch rewards to buy. Don't forget, we also hold our monthly surgeries here, on the first Friday of every month, 4 – 5.30pm in the garden room, do pop along and say hello!

Tailored help is also available from the warmer homes advice and money service, WHAM. It provides support for anyone who might be struggling to afford to heat their homes with caseworkers from partner organisations co-ordinating the support for clients. There's a referral form www.cse.org.uk/referral and free phone number: 0800 082 2234. There is unfortunately a waiting list.

Basic energy saving tips can be found here: www. bristolenergynetwork.org via the home page. Of course, we wish there was also a national energy saving programme available from the government to offer everyone support for a warmer home.

Supporting food banks – We know there are steep rises in the cost of food. Thanks to every one supporting or volunteering at local food banks – they are hard pressed to keep up with demand just now.

If you could help support Bristol Local Food Fund through their crowdfunder please visit their appeal here: www.crowdfunder.co.uk/p/blff. The fund offers grants to those in need.

Obstructive parking - We're getting regular complaints about obstructive parking around parts of the ward where there's no parking management scheme. Older double yellow lines may need to be renewed to ensure enforcement activity can take place by parking services. The police have acted where pavements are badly obstructed - do contact them on their non-emergency number or by message via the constabulary website and officers on patrol should be notified. We're frustrated that problems can fall through gaps between the police and the council parking services and promises made to look into protecting corners from obstructive parking made by the Cabinet member for Transport have not been followed through. We're continuing to press for action to allow safe access around the ward for pedestrians and emergency vehicles and other services.

Mobile phone masts - Many applications are being made for new mobile phone masts across the city. Increased reliance on mobile working since lockdown and new data hungry services are behind this. We share some concerns about their impact and have been advising residents worried about them. The operators have significant powers to ensure their infrastructure does get installed so grounds for objection have been limited, even in conservation areas. Health concerns cannot be cited as a reason for rejection. After a site by playing fields along King's Drive was turned down by planners the applicant has appealed and this means the final decision now lies with a government inspector. Anyone who registered a view should be invited to comment again. Any views must be submitted by 3 November

Mixed news on the buses – Following the closure of Bristol Community Transport, we are relieved to know that Brighton-based community operator The Big Lemon has taken over the 505 route. This serves people along Kellaway Avenue/Coldharbour Road – running from Bower Ashton to Southmead.

Sadly, the withdrawal of a purely commercial service run by First Bus, the 72a, has taken place. This is blamed on the extreme driver shortage affecting services and reduced use of buses making some routes unviable. We're worried how this will affect people reliant on it to get around the city.

Some new financial support is promised but can't be used until next year, and training new bus drivers is a slow process. Greens lobbied the West of England metro mayor to do more to support an effective bus network.

Cleaner Air coming – but worries for disabled people – The city's statutory clean air zone will finally start on 28 November, after many years of delays to get less toxic, safer air.

Do check if your travel plans will be affected by the new zone rules. So far at least three quarters of motor vehicles are not affected by any charges as they are approved compliant models. There is a mix of transitional help for vehicles including EV loans for traders and taxis and active travel help – see the website www.cleanairforbristol.org where information roadshows and the support packages are detailed. You'll need to be ready by March 2023 at latest when the transition closes. For those looking at other ways to travel, cycle training is available from charity Lifecycle.

There's concern by disabled people in the city, who are among those on lowest incomes with most dependence on mobility, and we're supporting a request for the council to look again at how many people are excluded from the support available. We want there to be a just transition to cleaner air.

New parks strategy – Our parks have been very well used since lockdown and we know how much they are valued. They are also being asked to run with very limited budget provision and to serve more and more different purposes including nature, drainage, events, heritage, food growing and be more accessible. We're hoping the new strategy offers a concrete way forward for community groups and diverse users to make the most of our parks and looking for plans that help invest in facilities and repairs where these are needed.

At the Communities Scrutiny Commission we were told no consultation would be held but after pressure from stakeholders a promise has been since been made to carry one out after all. We're pleased that this will now take place and enable input by local parks and open space groups and others.

CUSTOM RUGS & RUNNERS • SEAGRASS

It is great this family business has remained busy during these challenging times. When I last spoke with owners Colin and Ross they told me they have now been on our high street for nine years! They both still very much enjoy being a part of the Gloucester Road community and thank their local customers for their ongoing support.

Their impressive showroom runs over three floors – downstairs is dedicated to real wood, parquet and engineered oak flooring.

The rear showroom displays stylish, luxury vinyl tiles, perfect for all areas of the house with brands such as – Amtico, Karndean, Distinctive, Polyflor and Harvey Maria – who have a fabulous new range on display at the showroom.

The ground floor is home to an extensive range of quality carpets rugs and runners, both of natural and synthetic fibres. Ross has been busy installing the new distressed wooden panels that display beautifully the diverse ranges of gorgeous carpets they have on offer.

Natural Born Flooring's team are highly experienced and offer a friendly service, focusing on exceptional quality installations, using only the highest standard of products at competitive prices.

The Natural Born Flooring team would like to thank all of their customers for their ongoing support.
